U. S.-Red China Talks Favored By Molotov

Soviets Propose 'Free' Elections For Germany

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25 (AP)—Russia's V. M. Molotov said today direct talks between Red China and the United States on the Far East would be "useful in conoslidating the peace all nations desire."

The Soviet foreign minister thus endorsed fully a suggestion by Premier Chou En-lai of Red China for direct talks. He did so at a hurriedly-called news conference a short while before he departed by train for New York City en route home.

Molotov said the Chou proposal, made at the Bandung conference, was of "great importance."

"Such talks would be useful in consolidating the peace which all nations desire," he said. Later he added:

"As I see it, the situation in the area of Taiwan (You call it Formosa, I prefer Taiwan) is fraught with danger of a military character. At the present time, there is no deterioration in the situation but the danger has not disappeared."

The Soviet minister, obviously self-assured and enjoying the conference also said:

1. The Soviet Union does not advocate the extension of the regime of East Germany to that of all Germany or extension of the West German government to all Germany. Instead, Russia wants the Germans to settle their own system in "free, unfettered elections."

2. The chiefs of government themselves will have to decide what to talk about at the Geneva conference opening July 18. Asked if Premier Bulganin will head the Soviet delegation, he replied with great assurance, "Of course."

Hefty Wage Hike Asked To Head Off Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH, June 25 —UP— The CIO United Steelworkers told the U. S. Steel Corp. Saturday [illegible] a hefty increase in [illegible] wage settlement offer [illegible] possible industry [illegible] 600,000 workers next [illegible].

[illegible] A. Stephens, vice president and chief negotiator for the [illegible], was [illegible] to have stood firm on a [illegible] turned down by union negotiators [illegible] days ago. The [illegible] wage boosts averaging [illegible] cents an hour.

Stephens and USW President David J. McDonald talked secretly for [illegible] Saturday in their first [illegible] discussion since Thursday [illegible] when the company offered [illegible] across-the-board wage increase of 6 1-2 cents an hour. The [illegible] offer also provided for 1-2 [illegible] in 32 job classifications [illegible] the proposal a [illegible] 22 cents an hour.

The meeting between McDonald and Stephens marked the opening of a [illegible] drive to meet the midnight June 30 deadline for new wage agreements in USW contracts with 96 basic steel and [illegible] producers.

U. S. Steel, which employs 150,000 of the USW members affected by the wage talks, again was carrying the ball for the entire industry.

McDonald ordered the union's [illegible] wage policy committee, which has final say on all contract agreements, to meet here at [illegible] Monday. He hoped to have a supercharged proposal by [illegible] for the committee to [illegible] at that time.

McDonald and Stephens would [illegible] comment when their talk broke up. No further meetings were announced, but a union spokesman said "a phone call could get them together again." A series of individual or small committee meetings was expected, probably Sunday.

The union, meanwhile, issued instructions to officers of USW locals across the nation to prepare for strike action. A USW official described the notices as "routine" and said they included getting up strike committees, preparations to [illegible] welfare needs of members, and [illegible] arrangements.

Oldest Louisiana Lawmaker Dies At Plantation Home

BELLEROSE, La., June 25 (AP)—Rep. Clarence J. Savoie, oldest member of the Louisiana Legislature, died today at his home here. He was 75.

Savoie was a prominent figure in the Louisiana sugar industry and a director of the Electric Bond and Share Co. of New York.

He was a former director of Middle South Utilities and a former board member of the United Gas Corp.

At the time of his death, Savoie was president of Dugas and LeBlanc, a sugar firm at Paincourtville, and was on the board of directors of the Assumption Bank and Trust Co.

Savoie died at the Elia plantation, where he was born and spent his whole life.

In recent sessions of the Legislature, he had been attended by a nurse on constant duty and made few microphone appearances.

In the May fiscal session, however, he got out of a sick bed to deliver a blistering personal attack on Gov. Robert Kennon.

Taking the floor on personal privilege, the ardent supporter of Gov. Earl Long demanded an investigation of "rumors" about the governor and the Magnolia Harness track in Jefferson Parish, slot machines, pinball machines and state insurance.

Kennon, who rarely engages in personal politics, departed from his prepared text in addressing the Legislature that night to hit at "slanderous outbursts" made for political purposes.

The governor said he viewed the attack as "a symbol of the last desperate effort of a dying political age in Louisiana."

That portion of his talk drew applause from an otherwise frosty joint session.

Brace For New Anti-Segregation 'Rider'

House Leaders Forecast Ike Victory This Week On New Reserve Program

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—House leaders say President Eisenhower will win this week in the second round of his fight with Rep. Powell (D-N. Y.) over a new military reserve program.

The test, due late in the week, will be on a compromise reserve bill designed to prevent Powell from adding a new antisegregation amendment.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee said "I am confident the House will pass" the new measure expanding the reserves four times to 2,980,000 men by 1960.

Other leaders say privately that President Eisenhower's strong stand for the measure will keep Powell from getting necessary support.

The new bill authorizes teen-agers to avoid draft duty by volunteering for 7½ years in the reserves under training. It also provides that reservists failing to keep up 48 annual drills and a 17-day summer encampment, or the equivalent, can be recalled for 45 days' active duty.

In a welter of issues and personalities, segregation became the parliamentary key to the program. For that reason, Powell, one of the three Negroes in the House, and the President have become the chief figures in a complex fight.

The real issue is whether the Pentagon should be given new machinery to get young, partly trained men into the active reserves, and keep them training as a [illegible] for [illegible] standing forces.

Powell [illegible] party lines and [illegible] the original reserve bill last month with an amendment barring the assignment of reservists to segregated National Guard units.

Regularly in the last 12 years Powell, a 46-year-old Baptist minister, has offered antisegregation proposals. This time a gesture regarded as routine became a bombshell when the House twice approved the proposal.

Sponsors of the measure say Powell won only because opponents of the bill saw in his amendment a chance to kill the measure without taking a direct stand on it. The result was to alienate Southerners needed to pass the bill.

The President says that while the administration is doing all it can to end segregation, the reserve bill should not be endangered by such an amendment.

The compromise bill, which the Armed Services Committee is expected to approve Tuesday, eliminates all reference to the National Guard. Powell once said he would accept this, but now says he fears the Senate would restore the original disputed clause, regardless of the House bill.

Ex-Con Confessed

Body of Teenager Slain By Parolee Found In River

ROME, Ga., June 25 (AP)—The body of slim, blonde 14-year-old Patricia Ann Cook was found today in the muddy Etowah River, wrapped in a quilt, tied with a log chain and weighted down with a huge wrench.

Dr. Herman Jones, state toxicologist, said an autopsy showed she had been shot in the back. He said the bullet penetrated the heart and emerged from the left breast.

Jones declined to say immediately whether the attractive Rome teen-ager had been raped. "I'll have to [illegible] further tests," he [illegible]. "It may be several days before I know."

The autopsy was performed at nearby Cartersville, Ga., a few hours after the body was found in the 8-foot deep river by searchers using grappling hooks.

The spot was pointed out by Willie Grady Cochran, 36-year-old ex-convict and mental patient, who was quoted by police as confessing he raped and killed the girl Monday after enticing her away from [illegible] of her home.

Bartow County Sheriff Frank Aycock said a murder warrant had been issued. A rape warrant was held up pending a complete report from Dr. Jones.

Aycock quoted Cochran as admitting he shot the girl with a [illegible]

16 Americans In Soviet Camps

Soldier's Disappearance Solved After Four Years

WEINER NEUSTADT, Austria, June 25 (AP)—The disappearance of an American soldier four years ago was cleared up today. Austrians in a group of 186 returned from imprisonment in Russia said they had seen him among 16 Americans in Soviet labor camps.

The soldier is Sidney Ray Sparks, 23, of Tennille, Ga., a U.S. Army private who escaped from a West Berlin guardhouse with two other privates in 1951. Later the three were reported to have sought political asylum in Communist-controlled East Germany.

Sparks told the Austrians he was arrested by the Russians in East Berlin in 1951. Sick but still forced to work for the Soviets in the Eastern European Russia, Sparks tearfully asked the Austrians to tell American authorities of his whereabouts.

In Tennille, Sparks' grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Gladin, was overjoyed at the news from her son. She exclaimed: "Oh God, it's wonderful. I love my baby. I do hope they will turn him loose."

His stepfather, a retired carpenter, said he did not believe Sparks would go Communist and was confident the soldier was being held against his will.

In Berlin a U. S. Army spokesman said Sparks, at the time he disappeared, faced a general court-martial on charges of being

Son Of Police Sergeant Slain By Club Owner

Dies In Exchange Of Fire; Robbery Motive Suspected

NEW ORLEANS, June 25 —UP—The son of a New Orleans police sergeant, described by his father as a boy who "felt inferior," was shot and killed today by a night club owner who was critically wounded in a point-blank gun battle with four members of a gang apparently bent on robbery.

Police said the sergeant's son, Rodney Gares, 20, pumped two slugs into Joe Almerico, owner of the Manhattan Club on Canal street, when the 52-year-old club owner reached for a gun after being accosted by Gares in front of his home about 3 a.m.

Almerico, although badly wounded, fired two slugs from a .38 Colt into Gares, then crawled into the shelter of a neighboring house where he battled Gares' three companions who opened fire from a dark sedan parked at the curb. Police found 10 bullet holes in the two homes that acted as a backstop for the gun fight.

The three gang members drove off when the noise of the gunfire brought lights flashing on in the quiet residential section.

Three men, Harvey Fellon, 20, George Dvuci, 25, James Diamond, 18, were later arrested and held for questioning. Police said they did not admit any part in the shooting.

Gares, father, Sgt. Paul Gares, said the other three youths apparently sent Rodney "to stick him up" when Almerico got out of his car after returning from his night club. He said the gang apparently intended to force Almerico into the house and open his safe. The house, he said, was equipped with a "terrific alarm" and could only be entered by pressing a secret button which opened the front door.

"The [illegible] apparently knew this," the father said. "[illegible] sent poor Rodney to stick up Almerico and make him push the secret switch so they could all walk in."

Gares said his son was a "poor kid who got mixed up and messed up pretty early in life. He was rough, active, a good street fighter. He had trouble in school. When he was just a kid, my wife and I took him to a psychiatrist."

But Gares said "I will never understand how he got messed up in this safe job [illegible]."

"I know police work and criminals. And here was my boy, right under my nose, and I could never have guessed he knew the first thing about pulling a robbery crime like this."

Gares said the psychiatrist told him that Rodney "was suffering from an inferiority complex. He felt inferior. Why, I don't know. He would do wild things to impress the other kids. That's why he kept getting in trouble in school."

Almerico, who was expected to recover from his wounds, told police at the hospital that "all three" of the gang members opened fire on him after he fell.

William Westbaecker, [illegible] next door neighbor of Almerico, said he awoke to "what sounded like firecrackers. I looked out the window and saw the [illegible] ing. Some of them were [illegible] my house. I called [illegible]

'Simple Luck'

186 Saved When Ship Grounds

MANILA, June 25 —UP— The master of an American freighter told Saturday night how his crew used small boats to remove 186 panicky persons mostly women and children from a grounded vessel.

Capt. James Brummelen of the Steel Admiral said everyone was removed from the Philippine coastal vessel Neptuno in the three-hour dawn rescue Friday. There were 111 women and 26 children aboard.

It was "simple luck" that led to the rescue, in the Sibuyan Sea south of here, Brummelen said after he brought all survivors to Manila aboard his 8,000-ton freighter Friday night. The first clue he had that a ship was in distress was blinking lights in the distance.

The 580-ton Neptuno, a hole torn in its bottom, was perched atop a reef just off Marinduque Island.

His crew removed the passengers and crew in small boats on a basis of "women and children first," he said.

"Visibility was very poor and the sea current in the area was rather unusually tricky," the captain added.

Survivors told how they had been pitched from their bunks when the Neptuno ran aground. The purser said "before I knew it there was a terrific thud and a grating sound followed by a listing of the vessel."

A member of the Philippine board of inquiry said a cause of the grounding may have been overloading. The Neptuno was only authorized to carry 73 passengers, he said.

President Orders Early Action On Hoover Report

WASHINGTON, June 25 —UP— The citizens committee for the Hoover report disclosed Saturday that President Eisenhower has ordered "early and vigorous" action to carry out most of the Hoover commission recommendations for improving the government.

The commission has said its recommendations would save the taxpayers at least $7 billion if they were all put into effect, so far there has been little action.

The committee called for the "active encouragement of unbiased citizens of both parties" to help put the proposals into effect and thus give the nation "a better government at a better price."

Clarence Francis, committee chairman, said he has been assured that "relatively few" Hoover recommendations "will be considered contrary to the administration's program."

He reported that Mr. Eisenhower stressed the need for positive administration action at a meeting June 8 with the commission's chairman, former President Herbert C. Hoover. The budget bureau, he said, is expected to make the first report on progress with [illegible] departments early next month.

The Hoover commission, which goes out of business next Thursday, has issued 19 reports and 228 recommendations this year on how to rid the government of waste and inefficiency. [illegible] other reports now being completed—will be made public shortly.

The commission held its final meeting here Friday night. It marked the end of two years work and the chairman and one-time President received a warm pat on the back for his "able, fair and patient leadership."

RUFUS H. WILSON

AMVETS' Chief, Rufus H. Wilson, Will Speak Here

Highlighting this morning's session of the Louisiana Amvets' State Convention being held at the Virginia Hotel will be an address by Rufus H. Wilson, national commander. Wilson was originally scheduled to arrive in Monroe yesterday, but was unable to do so. He will arrive at 9:15 a.m. today.

The convention banquet was held last night at the Crystal Ballroom, and was followed by a dance on the hotel roof. Dr. Henry Sageser, of Northeast State was principal speaker.

During yesterday's business session the convention heard an address by Col. R. T. Calhoun, commander of the 376th. Bomb Wing, Barksdale Air Force Base, who asserted that if we are to avoid war, we must be capable of defeating any enemy who forces war upon us. "In order to do that," Col. Calhoun said, "we must make the military career attractive enough to young men to compete with industry for their skills."

Prior to World War II, he continued, "our military establishment was considered relatively unimportant, due to public opinion. However, with the attack on Pearl Harbor, it was immediately considered of the utmost importance and was soon built up to the mightiest war

Rhee Warns West Not To Be Fooled By Red Peace Talk

SEOUL, June 25—UP—President Syngman Rhee warned the West Saturday, on the fifth anniversary of the Communist attack on South Korea, not to be fooled by talk of "peace" from Red dictators who plan to conquer the world.

"Communist dictatorships have not changed in any way their purpose of conquering the world. . ." Rhee said in a prepared but undelivered anniversary speech.

"They are loudly advocating peaceful coexistence. . .with a skill which unhappily has been matched by overly - optimistic blindness in some parts of the free world."

Rhee cancelled plans to speak at the Seoul city stadium because of the heaviest rain of the year. He told some 20,000 Koreans who had gathered at the stadium despite the downpour to "go home and read the speech in the newspapers."

Some 50,000 U. S. soldiers and troops from nine other nations are still in Korea, standing guard against Communist aggression, but Allied strength in the war-torn peninsula is being whittled down as the power of the native army increases.

Saturday, the U. S. Army closed down its special supply command in Pusan, leaving logistic tasks to the Eighth Army and South Korean forces.

Briton To Seek Wider Settlement With Red China

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—An independent-minded British diplomat flies to Peiping tomorrow under orders to work for a wider settlement of Red China's disputes with the West.

He is 42-year-old Eton and Oxford-educated Con Douglas Walter O'Neil. He has been named as Britain's third charge d'affaires — and acting ambassador — since this country recognized the Communist government of Mao Tze-tung in 1950.

As political adviser to Britain's high commissioner in West Germany, O'Neil was one of the main architects of this country's policy of building up the federal republic to help resist the threats and thrusts of Soviet communism in Europe.

Before World War II he was a third secretary in Britain's Berlin embassy. He resigned from the diplomatic service in the 1938 Munich agreement which allowed Hitler to occupy part of Czechoslovakia. O'Neil said he considered the British government's participation in the Munich accord an act of appeasement of the Axis that helped to bring war nearer.

O'Neil's main immediate task in Peiping will be to help seek a basis of negotiation between red China and the United States for a settlement of the Formosa dispute.

A gradual improvement in Red Chinese relations with the West—another British aim — might also lead to a relaxation of the West's trade restriction against the Communist country and pave the way eventually for Red China's admission into the United Nations.

For the past two years O'Neil has been in charge of the news department of the Foreign Office. It has been during a period of high activity and initiative in Britain's international policies.

O'Neil was a key member of Prime Minister Eden's delegation when Eden went as foreign secretary to international talks such as the Big Four conference on Germany in Berlin last year and last summer's Geneva parley on Indochina.

At Expense Of Cuba

Mexico, Peru Join In Asking U. S. For Larger Share Of Sugar Market

WASHINGTON, June 25 (?) — Mexico and Peru joined today in asking Congress for a larger share of the U. S. sugar market for themselves and for American growers, chiefly at the expense of Cuba.

Representatives of the two countries and of various domestic firms which do business with Cuba appeared today before the House Agriculture Committee in a hearing on sugar legislation.

Cuba has entered formal opposition to bills sponsored by American producers to give increased quotas to domestic sugar growers in 1956, claiming it would be a blow to Cuba's one-crop economy based on sugar.

The administration proposed aid for the domestic industry in 1956, and for other foreign producers in 1957. Domestic producers oppose the administration policy because they want immediate quota increases.

The hearings, begun Wednesday, are to continue through Tuesday, when Laurence Crosby appears as major witness for Cuba. He is president of the U. S. Cuban Sugar Council, composed of U. S. investors with sugar properties in Cuba, and is a long-time operator of sugar properties in Cuba.

Oscar Chapman, Secretary of Interior from 1949 to 1952 under President Truman, told the committee that Mexico expects that Congress "will look after the best interests" of U. S. sugar producers first.

"Mexico seeks only to obtain a U. S. sugar market allotted to foreign producers," he said.

Both Chapman and John Moore of W. R. Grace & Co., which has sugar interests in Peru, said they felt the two countries have not had a fair deal under U. S. sugar laws.

Chapman said that Mexico seeks no cut in Cuba's present sugar quota, but a larger share of the year-to-year increase in sugar consumption in the United States.

And Mexico, he declared, "insists that it is entitled to equal consideration with other foreign producers."

Kenneth Sprague, comptroller of American and Foreign Power Co., Inc., and a director of its Cuban subsidiary, said Cuba bought $428 million of U. S. products in 1954. He asked that Cuba's sugar sales not be cut.

An Indiana study shows that 710,000 acres in that state have been adapted for use in subdivisions, industrial expansion and new roads, parks and airports in the past 10 years.

Declare Fringe Benefits For Members Of House Will Have Opposition

WASHINGTON, June 25 —UP— Reps. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.) and Usher L. Burdick (R-N.D.) let it be known Saturday that the new benefits House members are all set to vote for themselves, and their helpers, won't get through without protest.

"They've blown the governor right off the engine," said the peppery Hoffman. "There's no question about it. When we voted ourselves a pay raise we threw the gates wide open."

The lawmakers are proposing to bolster their recent $7,500 pay hike with such fringe benefits as extra clerks, more trips home, and more (or longer) long distance calls.

Under a package plan approved by the House Administration committee, and cleared with congressional leaders, they also are planning to pass out about $450,000 in pay raises to 200 House employes, including the chaplain (who would get $7,326 instead of $4,200); the clerk and the sergeant-at-arms ($17,500 instead of $13,400); and the doorkeeper ($16,500 instead of $12,800).

"Seems to me it's a second addition to what we already grabbed," said Burdick, who displeased some of his cohorts by opposing the congressional pay raise. "We have got to end this grab until the people get on their feet."

Hoffman complained that Congress set off a general spending spree when it raised its own pay at the start of the current session.

"It's a race between the Democrats and the Republicans," said Hoffman, "with an eye cocked on next year's elections, to see who can do the most for everybody."

Specifically, what the lawmakers propose to do for themselves to authorize:

Extra stationery allowance ($1,500 per year, instead of $1,200); more postage ($300 instead of $200, in addition to the privilege of franking all mail classed "official;" more, or longer, long distance calls (3,000 minutes instead of 2,700); a doubled telegraph allowance (24,000 words instead of 12,000); and additional round trips home, at 20 cents per mile (the present allowance is one trip per session.)

Also, they want funds for an extra clerk, to be called a research assistant, who would draw $11,285 a year.

The total number of immigrants to the United States before 1927 has been estimated at more than 37 million.

Chiropractic Association Head Critical Of Medics

Inspired by greed, and egotism, certain politically aspiring members of the Louisiana Medical Association have abused and maltreated the trust placed in their hands by the Medical Practice Act, William S. Boyd, president of the Louisiana Chiropractic Association, charged yesterday.

Boyd hurled the charge at the medical association in a challenge that representatives of the association meet with chiropractor. "To date," Boyd said, "approximately half the practicing chiropractors in Louisiana have been hailed into court and charged with 'practicing medicine without a license.'

"All these chiropractors were doing," he continued, "was adjusting segments of the spine, which is legal in all but three states, Louisiana, Alabama and New York. (Mississippi is not licensed, but has a Supreme Court ruling that the practice of chiropractics is not the practice of medicine."

With the passage of the state Medical Practice Act 41 years ago, Boyd asserted, the legislature place a tremendous power in the hands of the medical profession. "It is plain to see," he continued "that the object of the act was not to protect the public, but to give the medical profession an air-tight monopoly of the healing art. The 164 word description of medicine in this act states in part 'the use of force, whether psychic of physical, constitutes the practice of medicine.' Due to this phraseology judges must deliver decisions based on law rather than justice."

He denounced the act as "un-American, unjust, and definitely not in the best interest of the public."

"Inspired by greed, and egotism, certain politically aspiring members of this medical group have abused and maltreated this trust that was placed in their hands," Body continued. "Not content with having the public build their hospitals, and furnish them with the tools of their trade and the collecting of criminally high prices for their services, they now want to ruthlessly stamp out all competitive healing arts with utter disregard for the welfare of the people.

"If chiropractics is as useless as the medical profession claims, it should be eliminated from the state once and for all," he concluded, "However, if it is a valuable adjunct to the healting arts, it should be licensed and regulated once and for all."

Although meterorites have been observed for thousands of years, it was not until 1803 that modern astronomers were convinced that they reach the earth from outer space.

A continuing study by the Population Reference Bureau shows that U. S. college graduates are having more children but do not yet have enough to replace their own numbers.

'Y' Day Camp Has Successful Period For Younger Boys

The Twin Cities YMCA day camp for boys 6 to 12 years of age, had a most successful first period. They participated in crafts, hiking, nature lore, devotionals, story telling, singing, athletic contests, archery, swimming, boating, and overnight camping. Skilled leaders were in charge. There are 139 boys enrolled.

Overnight camp for day campers was held Friday, June 24 at Camp Alabama, near Choudrant, owned by the Presbyterians. There they enjoyed motor boating, fishing, swimming, an Indian camp fire and outdoor cooking. The Indian ritual was enjoyed by all.

On July 1, at 2 p.m., in Forsythe park, there will be a parent's day program when parents, relatives and friends are invited. At this time, swimming awards and other marks of credit will be presented. The best all-round camping group and most outstanding camper will be recognized.

In addition to the camping program in the summer months the Twin Cities YMCA also offers an excellent year round character building program for youth and adults. It consists of Indian Guides, Gra-Y Clubs, Jr. Hi-Y Clubs, athletic teams and special interest groups. This program will begin with the opening of school in the fall.

While the first camping period of day camp is filled to capacity there remain a few available spaces for second period beginning July 5 and third period beginning July 18. Any parent interested in registering their son in this outdoor program should phone the Twin Cities YMCA, 5-2353, for reservations.

AEC Will Sell Water To France For Atom Research

WASHINGTON, June 25 —UP— The Atomic Energy Commission said Saturday it will sell 30 tons of heavy water to France for use in two French nuclear research reactors.

Heavy water is used to slow down neutrons, subnuclear particles which trigger atomic fission, to the speed at which they work best in reactors. This country produces it in large quantities for its Savannah River, S. C., atomic explosives plant.

The sale to France will be made during the years 1956-58.

Waterfronts Boss Disenchanted At Deportation Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25—UP—Alfred Renton (Harry) Bridges, controversial boss of the waterfronts, sat in federal court this week to answer a civil action by the government aimed at stripping him of his United States citizenship.

Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, appeared disenchanted as he sat flanked by his three counsels and listened to a parade of government witnesses place him at various Communist functions throughout the United States. He acted like a man who had heard it all—and he has.

This was the fourth trial by the government which, over a period of 17 years, has tried to prove Bridges was a Communist and allegedly lied about his affiliations when he applied for U.S. citizenship. If the civil action is successful it will pave the way for the immigration department to deport him to his native Australia.

His first trial was in 1938 before Dean James M. Landis of Harvard law school who found that Communist accusations against Bridges were not proven and dismissed the charges. The second trial was in 1941 when Federal Judge Charles Sears upheld deportation charges but was reversed by the U.S. Supreme Court four years later.

The third trial was in 1950 when a jury found Bridges guilty of perjury in denying he was a Communist party member when naturalized in September, 1945. This decision, too, was reversed by the Supreme Court in 1953, holding that the charges were filed after the statute of limitations had expired.

The civil action was reactivated in 1954. Bridges went to trial Monday.

Adlai, Jr. Weds Nancy Anderson In Quiet Rites

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 25 —UP— Nancy Lewis Anderson and Adlai E. Stevenson, Jr., were married Saturday in a quiet, late afternoon ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, overlooking the Ohio River.

Among the small group of immediate relatives and close family friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warwick Anderson for the ceremony were the bridegroom's father, Democratic party leader Adlai E. Stevenson, and his mother, Mrs. Borden Stevenson of Chicago.

The bride, a graduate this spring of Smith College, wore her mother's ivory satin wedding gown with family rose point lace, and a head dress of the same rose point lace. She carried a French bouquet of [illegible].

The wedding service was read by Dr. Peter H. [illegible], pastor of Harvey Browne Presbyterian Church. The bride was given in marriage by her father, a Louisville advertising executive.

The young couple first met here several years ago when he was in the Army, stationed at nearby Fort Knox, and before he served a tour of duty in Korea.

After a small reception, which followed the ceremony, the newly married couple left for a honeymoon trip to Canada. They will live at Cambridge, Mass., where he is studying at Harvard University.

Dr. Ervin To End Services At LTI, Guidance Center

Next week marks the end of professional services rendered locally by Dr. Frank Ervin, of New Orleans, who has been a consulting psychiatrist for Louisiana Training Institute three days each week for the past several months. He divided this time also as clinical psychiatrist in the Monroe Area Guidance Center.

Dr. Ervin will be replaced by Dr. Charles Feigley, also of New Orleans, who is expected to arrive in Monroe Tuesday to become better acquainted with his new post.

An addition to the Guidance Center and L. T. I. is Norman MacKennon, who arrived with his family in Monroe last week and began his duties immediately as psychiatric social consultant. He replaces Mrs. Cecile Parker, who was employed as a part time social worker.

Friends of Dr. Ervin express regret that he is leaving his positions here.

An open house will be held from 2 til 4 p.m. Tuesday at the Monroe Area Guidance Center, located at 300 Oak Street, to honor Dr. Ervin, Dr. Feigley and MacKennon.

U. S. Officials To Host Neutral Burma Leader

WASHINGTON, June 25 —UP— President Eisenhower and other high American officials play host next week to a "neutral" Far Eastern leader whom they would like to woo into the Southeast Asian alliance against communism.

He is Prime Minister U Nu of Burma, who pursues a sternly anti-Communist policy within his own country but refuses to take sides in the international cold war.

U Nu is scheduled to arrive here Wednesday for a three-day official visit. He will meet the President and other officials and will be entertained at dinner by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The visit is billed as a "goodwill mission" but officials say there are a variety of subjects the Americans would be willing to discuss. The premier makes no secret of his admiration for the United States and its people, but he also has nice things to say about Red China.

At one time he offered to try and mediate differences between Washington and Peiping. But he has smilingly rejected all opportunities to enlist Burma in the anti-Communist Southeast defense organization sponsored by the United States.

A Congressman Views Red China

Editor's Note: This is the first of three articles dealing with a report on Red China recently made by Rep. B. Carroll Reese of Tennessee. The next will appear on this page tomorrow.

Writing in the June issue of National Republic, Rep. B. Carroll Reece of Tennessee summarizes the reports of about 50 members of the national Congress who have visited the Far East on official legislative business during the past 15 months and obtained first-hand information about Red China.

"Taken together," he says, "these reports present a panorama of plunder and spoliation without parallel in modern history."

The Tennessean charges that the narcotics traffic is systematically encouraged by the Peiping dictatorship, and has achieved rank as a financial mainstay of the communist regime. "Never before," he declares, "has a nation encouraged systematic expansion of the demoralizing narcotics trade as a basic instrument of fiscal policy." He adds that about one-third of the money derived from the drug traffic is left in the country where the narcotics are sold, to support communist sabotage and espionage. The other two-thirds goes back to Red China to bolster the bolshevist regime.

"Village life in China," he continues, "the very heart of native culture, has been uprooted by the murder and deportation of all former landowners . . . Each village is now a miniature communist dictatorship, presided over by zealots and fanatics, often still in their teens."

According to the lawmaker, the upshot of the vaunted "land reform" program in Red China is that the average "farmer" now owns 1.3 acres of land, whereas before the reds overran the country, the average was 2.5 acres. The tenants formerly paid fixed rents, usually a modest percentage, but now the government confiscates 60 per cent of the crops, through local taxes and the national food pool. Nobody knows where the latter portion goes. "Nobody in China gets enough to eat. There is no accounting for shipments to Russia or other communist countries." With no incentive to produce, the "farmers" balk at producing, and famine is an annual specter.

Reece quotes a report by a recent American Federation of Labor survey team, which concludes:

"The peasants of Communist China are being transformed from small, independent producers into farm hands who, unprotected by independent unions or other balancing social forces, toil for the most oppressive boss of all time, the monopoly bureau of a total managerial apparatus state."

Molotov's 'Tough' Speech

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, in a belligerent speech delivered in the San Francisco Opera House, laid down impossible terms as a basis for Russian "co-existence" with the Western powers.

Addressing the 10th birthday celebration of the United Nations in San Francisco, Molotov hurled demands right and left.

Among these were: Surrender of Formosa to Red China; admission of Red China to the United Nations, with the Nationalists thrown out; abandonment of all U. S. and Allied overseas military bases; withdrawal of Allied troops from West Germany, and Russian troops from Soviet-occupied East Germany; an early ban on the manufacture and use of atomic and hydrogen weapons; termination of all "war propaganda;" and a lifting of the partial economic boycott now in effect against Iron Curtain countries, involving weapons and strategic supplies.

Molotov's speech drew angry replies from Cuban and Philippine spokesmen at the meeting, Ambassador Portuondo and Carlos P. Romulo.

Unless the Soviet Union has something better and more constructive to offer at the projected Big-4 meeting in Switzerland next month, that "summit" conference no doubt will prove to be a complete waste of time.

President Eisenhower, slated to attend, is firmly committed by his own policies and the laws and resolutions of Congress on every point raised by Molotov.

The United States is pledged by Congressional resolution, which the President signed, and also by a recently approved mutual-aid treaty with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's government, to defend Formosa and adjacent islands against Red Chinese aggression. There is no room for compromise or bargaining on this point.

Congress, not once but repeatedly, has expressed almost unanimous opposition to Red China's entry into the United Nations, and the President and Secretary of State Dulles are known to see eye to eye with the lawmakers on this issue. Any attempt at the U. N. to override American opposition would, undoubtedly, [illegible] the UN's future as a world organization.

In the very address containing his demand for a "termination of all war propaganda", Molotov spread the propaganda through every paragraph of his remarks.

The Unjust Triumvirate

Mer Rouge, La.

Editor, Morning World:

What is the object behind the unwarranted and unjust attack on F. D. Roosevelt? Why berate a man who has been dead a decade? Is the villification of F. D. R. Communist inspired? Or is it Republican propaganda? Are a lot of Democrats falling for the venal attack?

The critics among whom is found the unjust triumvirate: George Sokolsky, Westbrook Pegler and the Saturday Evening Post, tax Roosevelt in an abstract manner with evil work at the Yalta Conference. Why do they never give a concrete charge to their accusations? Pegler is especially flagrant and fragrant. Section 2 paragraph 2 of Article II in the Text of the Constitution is a guarantee that any treaty made by the President with a foreign power has to be ratified by two-thirds of the Senate. Under the circumstance it would be as sensible to say the Governor of Louisiana sold the state to Texas or Mississippi.

Roosevelt died in the service of his country as much as did any GI who fell in War II. Who would die for his country and sell it at the same time?

There is a [illegible] up in Pennsylvania who says Roosevelt was a traitor and should have been jailed. All I wish to say to [illegible] is that he is a mental [illegible] for the Communist party.

A Tower Of Confusion

[illegible], La.

Editor, Morning World:

Sometime ago I read about an old Catholic symbol used some 1700 years ago by the early Christians in the catacombs during the great persecutions of the Catholics by the then pagan Roman emperors — the symbol of a dog biting his own tail.

The idea behind it was that the devil thought that leading wicked men to kill Christ he could spoil God's plan for the Redemption of mankind, not knowing that this was the very thing in God's plan that the God-Man, Christ, should redeem man from sin by His death on the Cross of Calvary. God, however, always knows how to bring good out of evil.

Thus also the various heresies which the Catholic Church alone had to combat from the times of the Apostles on through the centuries, though irksome to the Catholics, the Holy Ghost made use of them, especially in the great Catholic Ecumenical Council of the early Christians, to push the Church to deeper study of the heresies, to point out the errors and bring out the divine truth more clearly and gloriously.

Thus also when the recent Los Angeles, California, Presbyterian Assembly in its press release brought out heretical charges against the Catholic teaching and practice of venerating the Virgin Mary as unscriptural, it may be irksome and offensive to the Catholics, the Catholics need not be greatly perturbed because now, too, God knows how to bring good out of evil. The Presbyterian press release gave occasion to Catholic clergy and Catholic laity to bring out the Catholic stand more clearly for the benefit not only of Catholics but also of Protestants of good faith. Catholics should be grateful to the Monroe Morning World for giving the Catholics space to present the other side.

By [illegible] passing this blasphemy against God's purest creature, the ever Virgin and Mother of God, Catholics have reason to grieve at the lack of good will on the part of the California Presbyterian Assembly; the lack of good will is evident from the very press release where in one paragraph it condemns the veneration of the Virgin Mary as unscriptural when even the Protestant Bible, 1950 edition, Luke 1:48, clearly states Mary's prophetic words: "For behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed." Now, in the next paragraph of the Presbyterian press release appears the unbiblical decision to ordain women as ministers in the church, against the same Protestant Bible order of necessity, I Cor. 14:34: "Let your women keep silence in the churches for it is not permitted unto them to speak," etc.

Thus putting these two paragraphs together in their press release the Presbyterian Assembly produces a Tower of Confusion. Catholics would rather stay secure in Peter's Bark which has the guarantee of the Holy Ghost never thus to flounder.

It's A Gargantuan Victory For The Communists

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

In his speech on the Senate floor Senator Eastland stated that he had evidence that the nine Justices of the U. S. Supreme Court during their ruling against segregation made their decisions from a book entitled, "An American Dilemma," which was written by a gang of Communists for propaganda purposes. All nine of the Justices had taken an oath to abide by the Constitution of the United States. If they have violated their oath, ignored the Constitution and accepted some nefarious poison of the Communists to impose upon the South the most unjust law of all times, then these three words speak for justice: Impeach them now. If the people are powerless to do this, then we are already behind the Iron Curtain.

Senator Eastland also stated the Communists began their drive to win the influence more than ten years ago. Mr. Eisenhower has admitted that there are 25 thousand card-carrying Communists within our borders. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says there are ten fellow travelers (American Dupes) for every card-carrier which comes to 250 thousand termites. Attorney General Brownell says there are 308 subversive organizations working among us day and night and if our highest court falls victim to them, where are we the people.

The Communists and their agitators are the only ones calling for the mingling of the races. More than 95 per cent of the colored people want their own schools if they are up-to-date and sanitary. Louisiana has moved ahead with equalizing its schools. In fact some of the [illegible] money should have been applied to the schools. It has now been diverted to other channels more "important" than segregated schools.

Recently Senator Rainach and the Segregation Committee had made a "Gentlemen's Agreement" that if the committee would cut the school bill down to [illegible] million the governor would go along with them. He did, he vetoed it. 30 representatives voted against this bill which was mainly for segregation. One of these representatives was J. D. [illegible] of Lincoln Parish. These representatives I [illegible] for segregation [illegible] is a Communist [illegible] nothing about it.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

Mother-Teacher

The first three and four years of a child's life are spent close to his mother. These are years full of learning and the mother is the teacher, often the most important, impressive teacher the child will ever meet. What does she teach him?

She teaches him to be clean, to dress himself, to talk well, to walk properly, to eat correctly, to have good manners, to consider other people's rights and feelings, to play and to work happily. That is a full course in living and it lays the foundation for the living, playing, working in that child's future.

Most mothers teach their children all this up to where the play and work begin to enter the picture. Mothers have much to do. The housekeeping, shopping, health nutrition problems of the family, social duties, all demanding time and attention. Often the [illegible], "Run along now and play!" but the child stands still, looking sadly at her, not knowing what or how to play.

Play must be taught. It should start with the baby playing pat-a-cake and peek-a-boo and continue on through childhood years into adolescence. [illegible]

The stories that the mother-teacher reads to [illegible] should be imaginative and [illegible] for play which she can help them to play out. [illegible]

Allegiance To Science

Russia is drafting young men for scientific study. The world will be conquered or the peace enforced by the devices which they create.

Some say we're making it too tough for scientists in the United States. A vocal handful even complain that we are stifling free thought by subjecting these men of science to the Pledge of Allegiance.

We give these men access to our innermost secrets, information that affects the very vitals of our nation. Requiring them to swear that they are loyal to our country seems the very least we can ask . . .

If we choose to survive.

But these men whose work confines them to the intellectual stratosphere are impatient with fences we ordinary folk have to erect for our own protection.

This problem is not a new one. In 1775 an army of Americans had the British bottled up in Boston. A land blockade had evolved out of the victory at Bunker Hill.

For months this band of militiamen held the British under siege, unable to forage for food or fuel.

At sea, privateers were cutting into the supplies coming from England. The situation for the British, surrounded by a motley army of farmers, was becoming desperate.

Yet all the time the British were penned up at Boston, they were being filled in on what was going on behind Americans lines. They were being kept informed by one of General George Washington's most trusted aides . . . Benjamin Church.

Ben Church was our nation's first traitor.

He was caught red-handed. The evidence was in his own handwriting. It was a letter in code but clearly addressed to a "Major Cane in Boston on his majesty's service."

The code was easily broken. The note was a complete outline of Washington's strength. It ended with the admonition that Major Cane observe precaution to conceal the writer's identity. But Ben Church failed to heed his own advice.

He entrusted the missive to a shady lady who mentioned it to the wrong party.

A court martial found him guilty.

Doctor Ben Church had been director of hospitals in Washington's army. A man of science.

That early in our revolution we had no law covering treason. He was placed under house arrest. Years later he was allowed to leave the country. Exiled to the West Indies.

If he had not been caught in time, his spying could have changed the course of the Revolutionary War. Certainly needless thousands of American casualties would have resulted from his treason.

But we had no law, so Ben Church went free.

Today science has created a weapon enabling one man to deliver enough foot-pounds of destructive energy to destroy a city.

Today we have laws against treason and are seeking to strengthen them.

The viewpoint that man must be left free to be disloyal is not compatible with any interpretation of American Constitutional law.

You are not free . . . to park in front of my fire hydrant.

Ike Ends 3-Day Visit To New Hampshire With Promise To Return Soon

PARMACHENEE LAKE Maine, June 25—UP—President Eisenhower ended a three-day visit to New Hampshire Saturday with a promise to return again as soon as he leaves the White House—but he did not say when that would be.

The President sent that message to the residents of New Hampshire and then drove into the rugged Maine woods for a weekend of fishing and relaxation.

Mr. Eisenhower has been keeping people guessing for some time about his future political plans. On Thursday, in Concord, N. H., he made veiled hints that he might possibly run for a second term.

But he referred to a possible job change Saturday in a bread-and-butter statement to every citizen who turned out to see him on his tour of New Hampshire.

He said he had been "impressed by the obvious hospitality and a cordial welcome that has touched my heart."

And he promised to return to New Hampshire again—"as soon as I am in another kind of livelihood than I now enjoy."

The President made his final New Hampshire speech to an enthusiastic audience in Berlin. He thanked the state for the many gifts it had heaped upon him and jokingly observed that only one present had been forgotten.

"They should have provided a truck to carry them away," he said.

On his way to this private fishing lake near the Canadian border, Mr. Eisenhower paused in New Hampshire's north woods "Christmas tree country" to watch a demonstration of the latest lumbering techniques.

Later, the President talked with several of the woodsmen, including Ernie Goddard, 38, Berlin.

James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said nothing had been heard about the latest Russian plane incident, involving attack on a U. S. Navy Neptune patrol plane over the Bering Strait last Wednesday.

Mr. Eisenhower awaited a reply from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who is in San Francisco. Dulles took up the airplane matter with Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov and was to report back to the President.

It appeared unlikely the President would hear anything Saturday however, because of the limited communication facilities here.

Claim Teen-Agers Held In Solitary At State Colony

ALEXANDRIA, La., June 25 — UP—Rep. Cecil Blair indicated today he would call for a grand jury investigation of the State Colony and Training school after it was disclosed that two teenagers, a girl and a boy, were held in solitary confinement at the school for two weeks.

The two were released from solitary confinement today following a visit to the institution by Blair and Don Easterly, city editor of the Alexandria Town Talk.

Blair said he was going to discuss the possibility of calling a grand jury investigation of the colony.

"I didn't believe it when I heard about them being in solitary confinement," Blair said. "I had to see it with my own eyes."

After Blair visited the institution, he called Dr. Edward D. Grant, director of state institutions, and Dr. W. E. Barker, chairman of the board of institutions, asking them to order the teenagers released. Blair said both refused to do so.

Easterly reported that Dr. William Hurder, superintendent of the colony, said the two children were confined June 12 after they had run away from the colony together.

He said the boy was 15 and the girl 14. They left the colony about 9 a.m. on that date and stayed in nearby woods until that night when an attendant spotted them and returned them to the colony.

Dr. Hurder told Easterly that the confinement was a "little rugged" and said it was unusual that anyone would be put in confinement that long.

According to detective chief Hugh Tolbert, on June 3 Boyce Motors Company reported the theft of a 1947 Chevrolet. The car was later found abandoned about 10 miles east of Ruston. A subsequent investigation by State police and the Lincoln Parish Sheriff's Department lead to the apprehension of Herman Martin, 36, of Vienna.

Martin was returned to Monroe by detectives, where he admitted the theft, Tolbert said.

He is being held in the Ouachita Parish jail.

The Detectives also reported the arrest of Tony Plater, 21, of Extension, in connection with the theft of a revolver Friday from a home at 3735 Dunlap street.

Tolbert said Plater admitted the theft and of disposing of the gun, which was later recovered. He was charged with theft and will be tried in city court.

U. S. Lays Down Plan To Make Formosa Vital Link In Defense Chain

TAIPEI, Formosa, June 25—UP—The United States has laid down a long-range plan designed to make Formosa a formidable link in the Western defense chain, it was disclosed Saturday.

American sources said that the plan calls for an expenditure of about $300 million a year over a long period to keep this Nationalist Chinese island out of Communist hands.

Direct military aid is expected to total $200 million.

The principal points in the United States plan are:

1. To keep 23 Chinese Nationalist regular Army divisions at full strength and in top combat condition. In addition, a crack Chinese Marine division and several reserve divisions would receive United States support.

2. To build up a Chinese Nationalist air force of eight wings of jet fighter and fighter bomber planes. A wing consists of about 75 planes.

3. To give the Nationalist Navy two additional destroyers and a number of landing craft and patrol boats. Nationalist sources say this would bring the Navy strength to four destroyers, five destroyer escorts, more than 30 gunboats and a fleet of auxiliary ships.

It is planned to bring the strength of the United States military assistance advisory group on Formosa to 1,700 officers and men. Officers of this group will be sent to even the lowest units levels to supervise training and re-equipping of Nationalist troops.

Under the plan, the United States Seventh Fleet would continue to guarantee Formosa against Communist invasion for "years to come," informants said.

They emphasized that the long-range plan depends a great deal upon the situation in the Formosa Strait. Things are quiet now. But renewed Chinese Red threats to "liberate" Formosa or an attack on the Quemoy or Matsu Island groups might necessitate greatly increased aid.

Atomic Committee Will Interview Member Of AEC

WASHINGTON, June 25 —UP— Chairman Clinton P. Anderson said Saturday that staff representatives of the Congressional Atomic Energy committee will interview Allen Whitfield of Iowa July 7 in connection with his appointment to the Atomic Energy Commission.

"We will be ready to schedule hearings as soon thereafter as he desires," the New Mexico Democrat said. He added that 10-day notice of such hearings must be given to committee members.

Anderson said George Norris, Jr., committee attorney, and Carmine Bellino, former FBI accountant on loan to the committee, will meet with Whitfield at 2 p.m. Thursday, July 7, in his Des Moines office. Anderson said they will ask Whitfield for information outlined in 24 questions posed in a letter mailed by the chairman early this month.

Those questions are known to involve Whitfield's role as a trustee for the estate of the late R. A. Crawford and the estate's disposition of Crawford's interest in the Valley Bank and Trust Co.

The Atomic Energy committee has borrowed Bellino to help in the analysis of the Crawford estate. Bellino is a certified public accountant who works for the Senate Investigating committee. In that role he has figured in a number of widely-publicized Senate investigations.

Anderson said the committee representatives had planned to visit Des Moines next week to question Whitfield. But they deferred the interview at Whitfield's request to week after next.

Transferring Of Indian Health Program May Be Biggest Shift In Years

WASHINGTON, June 25 —UP— Transfer of the Indian health program from the Indian Bureau to Public Health Service is believed to be the largest shift of government workers and property in recent years, acting Interior Secretary Clarence A. Davis said Saturday.

Davis said the transfer, effective July 1, involves 3,600 Indian Bureau employes and about 970 buildings.

He said the buildings are estimated to be worth $40 million and include 56 hospitals, 21 health centers, 13 boarding school infirmaries and many other structures.

The first congressional appropriation for Indian health was approved in 1911 and amounted to $40,000. The appropriation for the current fiscal year for Indian health is $23.4 million and constitutes one-fourth of the Indian Bureau's budget.

When the program is switched to the Health Service next month, the annual appropriation will be hiked about $10 million to about $33 million and the PHS will be given authority to hire an additional 1,000 or more employes to handle Indian health work.

Congress and some medical groups felt that the health work could be handled better by the Health Service than by the Indian Bureau, but they also felt that more money was needed for the program to get desired results.

The Interior Department said great strides have been made in meeting health problems of the nation's 400,000 Indians who still are under federal government care. But the record shows that many more Indians die of tuberculosis than do whites or Negroes. The infancy and young childhood death rate also is very high.

Because of tuberculosis—and particularly the infant and young child death rate—the life expectancy of an Indian is about half that of a white person.

A medical spokesman said this is due largely to the fact that so many Indians live in out-of-the-way areas of the West where they are many miles from medical help and regular supervision.

Tractor, Baler Roll Into Bayou, Workers Escape

Late yesterday afternoon Alvin Tippett, Monroe, saw H. K. Wimberly of West Monroe and an unidentified youth cutting hay along the bank of Bayou DeSiard near Lakeshore subdivision. A short time later he saw only the baler sticking out of the water.

Like most people would have done, Tippett surmised that the tractor and its operator and possibly his helper had gone into the bayou. He immediately summoned state Police, who in turn notified the fire department rescue squad.

When firemen arrived they learned that several persons had been diving in the area and confirmed that the tractor was beneath the water. However, they had been unable to locate either Wimberly or the youth, one or both of whom were believed drowned.

Firemen made several drags over the area, but failed to recover the bodies. Police were in the process of summonsing a wrecker to pull the tractor from the water, on the possibility that the "victims" might be pinned beneath it when Wimberly and the youth were found — safe and sound and dry.

According to firemen, Wimberly said he knew the tractor was in the bayou, but no details were given concerning how it got there.

The plane would refuel at Sydney, Nova Scotia, instead of stopping at Gander.

Airline officials told Keith the next best thing was a flight leaving New York at 2 p.m. EST Sunday. The pilot of that plane will be the same pilot who brought Mrs. Keith from Prestwick, Scotland, to Gander.

She was returning from Oslo where she had been visiting her ailing mother. Aboard the New York-bound Scandinavian Airlines plane with her were Tordis, 5, another daughter, and a son, Bruce, 11 months.

Labor pains signalled that the babies might be coming.

Pilot Gordon Whitfield asked Prestwick, Scotland, by radio for medical advice and was told "give her a sedative." The plane was then 800 miles off Gander.

He raced the plane for the international airport here, and Mrs. Keith was taken off in an ambulance at 8:30 a.m. and removed to the Sir Frederick Banting Memorial Hospital.

At 6 a.m., hours after the alarm Whitfield and his crew had, Mrs. Keith gave birth to the first daughter, weighing 3 pounds, 6 ounces. The Greek Orthodox people of Monroe are duly proud of their handsome new church at 2005 Forsythe avenue. This morning there will be services in English by the pastor, Rev. Vasilios Markopoulos, from 10 to 12 o'clock.

At this time, all who have donated to the erection of this fine building are urged to attend and the sermon will be suited to public acknowledgement to these fine and consecrated people.

In the afternoon today, 4 to 6 p.m. the pastor will be there and asks for members of the church, congregation and friends to come to the edifice and he will explain the meaning of all statues and paintings in the sanctuary.

Rev. and Mrs. Jaroy Weber — he is pastor of the West Monroe First Baptist church — will attend the Baptist World Alliance in London opening July 16. They are making the trip on the "Queen Mary." Also Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Horton, from the Monroe First Baptist church, will attend the same meeting in London. It is expected that the Webers will make an extended trip through Europe and the Holy Land before they return home.

The First Methodist church in West Monroe is on its way to raise money in cash and pledges for the new sanctuary which will require $180,000, and payment in full in 200 weeks is anticipated.

The sum of $50,000 is expected to be raised by September this year.

Some of the residents of Filhiol avenue are watching eagerly the career of Wayne Causey, now big league ball player with the Baltimore Orioles, for only a few weeks ago he was a senior at Neville high school and in spare time he cared for lawns in that area.

"Mighty high honor to have a grass cutter who ranks with big league players, after he signed contract for $50,000 for a three-year ball period," one remarked. "How many in Monroe can boast of so distinguished a "hired man?" he concluded.

Naturally, all Monroe is watching with deepest interest and when he made his first home run the other day and tied the score, they let out a whoop here in Monroe that must have been heard way up in Baltimore."

In Monroe there is an exceptionally industrious young business man.

Early Friday, residents in Grayling Lane, in the southside, found on screen doors the following announcement: "Bike's Washed, 5 cents, Ph. 2-1795." Written on the back of a blank check, the announcement was written in a childish scrawl. The name of the young business-man was not signed to the notice.

Dr. Gladys Jones To Attend Meeting In Los Angeles

Dr. Gladys Longino Jones, reading specialist at Northeast State, will attend the biennial convention of the American Association of University Women in Los Angeles from July 27 to July 1.

Dr. Jones will participate as an official delegate, and she also plans to attend between meetings two reading clinics at the University of Southern California.

As a delegate from the Lake Charles branch, AAUW, she will vote for the entire chapter of that city, and she will give a resume of the outstanding events of the convention to the Monroe chapter.

Her particular interests in the AAUW program are phases which deal with the status of women and the procedures regarding general education requirement for membership eligibility. "Speeding up the process of recognition" so that college graduates may enter the organization is Dr. Jones' chief concern with respect to the association. Many fine women are excluded from membership, she explained, because of standards which the AAUW requires of colleges. Working out a pattern whereby recognition of colleges can be gained more rapidly is a significant factor in the status of women, Dr. Jones said.

General education requirements for membership will be considered in a panel discussion chaired by Dr. Dorothy Woodward.

This will be only one issue which will be underlined in the convention program which is built around the theme, "We choose the future." The program committee explained that the subject is being offered with confidence that the thinking together at the Los Angeles meeting will help women choose wisely in the critical years ahead.

The keynote address will be made Monday night in the Hollywood Bowl by Dr. Susan B. Riley, of the George Peabody College faculty and national president of the American Association of University Women.

The convention will turn its attention to international affairs through a panel, discussing the United Nations. Participating speakers include Sir Leslie Knox Monro, New Zealand's delegate to the UN and ambassador to the United States; Prince Wan, Thailand's minister of foreign affairs and delegate to the UN, and formerly ambassador to the United States; and a representative from the State Department.

Parents Of Boy In Polio Center Short On Funds

A number of West Monroe people have recently taken an active interest in the troubles concerning a family whose 12-year-old son is at the polio clinic in Alexandria.

The M. M. Hart family, who reside on the Arkansas road, are hard pressed at the present time to find means to stay at the bedside of their son.

Robert Alvin Hart was stricken with polio on May 28. At present he is in an iron lung, paralyzed from the neck down. To add to the plight of the youngster he has developed a form of meningitis.

Robert was a fifth grade student at Drew school. He has two younger brothers at home, ages six and ten.

The father, M. M. Hart, is a carpenter by trade. At present he is having financial difficulties due to he and his wife attempting to stay at their son's bedsde.

Doctors at the polio clinic can give the Hart's no idea on how long their son will be confined.

A West Monroe church and also a church in Oak Grove, La., have aided the family, but the father reports that he is still in financial stress.

He has not been able to work regularly since the child was stricken.

McKay Accused Of 'Give-Aways' In Natural Resources

WAUWATOSA, Wis., June 25—UP—Rep. Henry S. Reuss (D-Wis.) Saturday accused Interior Secretary Douglas McKay of fostering a "reckless trend of giveaways" in connection with the nation's natural resources.

Reuss said the Interior Department is "subverting 50 years of good conservation practices for our soil, forests, national parks, water and wildlife."

"Secretary McKay's administration is rapidly giving away these resources to selfish interests," he said in a speech prepared for delivery to a Conservation Advisory Committee here.

Reuss charged that the McKay administration has tried to cripple the Soil Conservation Service; has favored giving away valuable sections of national forest land; and has failed to enforce fish and wildlife standards.

He said while Canada has earmarked $600,000 to help exterminate sea lampreys in the Great Lakes, the administration asked Congress for only $150,000. Congress has increased the amount to $350,000. Sea lampreys prey on lake trout.

About a fifth of U. S. crop and range land has been seriously damaged by water or wind, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

COLD RECEPTION — Monroe fireman W. H. Frith is shown holding a 41½-inch chicken snake which got a "cold reception" from the local firefighters, when it attempted to hitchhike in the coil spring of a car belonging to Robert Hirschfeldt, 711 Peach street. When an unidentified pedestrian informed Hirschfeldt that the reptile was stowed away in his car, the driver summoned firemen, who blasted it from its perch with a carbon-dioxide fire extinguisher and killed it. Warren Competes Successfully With Red Meet

HELSINKI, June 25—UP—Chief Justice Earl Warren and an American festival competed successfully here Saturday night with an international Communist meeting.

Mr. Warren told a large audience that freedom is "a culmination of all the constructive forces of civilization." He spoke at the opening ceremony of a two-day "America Days Festival."

Across town delegates to the Communist "world peace festival" heard their fourth day of party line speeches. The public was barred from the Red convention hall, providing a contrast to the American affair which was open to all.

Newsmen who shuttled back and forth between the two meetings reported the American one was by far the more successful. They reported the Red meeting was received with complete apathy by the Finns who flocked to hear Mr. Warren speak.

The Reds had postponed their gathering last month because they apparently feared competition from a touring American "Atoms for Peace" exhibit.

Knowland Sees 'Coincidence' In Plane Incident

WASHINGTON, June 25—UP—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said Saturday he believed the Russian attack on an American plane off Alaska was deliberate and signalled a turn from cold war into "hot peace."

The Californian told reporters he did not subscribe to the viewpoint that the shooting over the Bering Strait on Wednesday [illegible] an isolated incident by trigger-happy Communist pilots."

Several other members of Congress voiced fear that this latest incident may seriously affect the Big Four meeting to be held in Geneva next month.

Knowland said he did not know what was the purpose of the attack by [illegible] Russian MIG planes on the relatively lumbering 200-mile-an-hour Navy patrol plane.

But he preferred to see a "strange coincidence" in Communist attacks on U.S. planes when international discussions—such as the United Nations meeting in San Francisco and the impending Big Four talks—are in progress.

Both the defense department and the White House denounced the attack as unwarranted. The department said it occurred over international waters. Three of the 11 crew members were hit by shell fragments. Seven in all were injured. Despite a flaming engine, they reached American-owned St. Lawrence Island, some 40 miles from Russian territory, and crash-landed.

Although some congressmen expressed fears about the impact on the Big Four conference, the consensus seemed to be that it would not interfere with it. But they said the United States should demand reparations for the injuries to the crew and damage to the plane.

The Soviet Union never in the past has paid any reparations in such incidents. In fact, the Reds have bragged about them and in one case decorated Red airmen responsible for downing an American plane.

Car Riding Snake Chilled, Killed By City Firefighters

A 41½-inch snake got a cold shoulder from Monroe firemen yesterday when it decided to make a tour of Monroe via a car belonging to Robert Hirschfeldt, 711 Peach street.

Hirschfeldt was driving down South Grand street yesterday evening when an unidentified pedestrian flagged him down and told him there was a snake hanging from beneath his car. The driver got out and investigated. Sure enough there was the snake wrapped around a front coil spring.

Hirschfeldt then hurried around the corner to No. 1 fire station and enlisted the aid of Firemen W. D. Street and Dan Sawyer, who drove the car around to the fire station. There they jacked-up the vehicle and gave the reptile a blast with a carbon-dioxide fire extinguisher, dry ice in gas form.

Before the snake had a chance to exclaim, "Man! What a show [illegible]!" it fell from its perch stiff from the cold. Without giving it an opportunity to thaw out and become active again, firemen dragged it from the vehicle and completed the execution.

While most of the firemen agreed that their duties from time to time had included just about everything from getting cats out of trees to hunting for lost duck hunters, none could recall ever having encountered a hitch-hiking snake before.

"I've been a member of the fire department for 25 years," commented Capt. J. F. [illegible]. "That this is the first time I ever heard of the department being called to get a snake out of a car."

President Giovanni Gronchi, a [illegible] Christian Democrat himself, is expected to call in the [illegible] and former minister of agriculture tomorrow and ask him to form a Cabinet.

It seemed almost certain that Segni would go back to the formula of the four-party Center coalition with which former Premier Mario Scelba governed for 16 months.

Scelba, tough little Sicilian who was hailed on his recent American tour as Italy's No. 1 warrior against communism, resigned last Wednesday. The cause was a split between left and right wings in his own Christian Democrat party.

Biggest in Italy, the Christian Democrats have been the keystone in every government here since 1947. They do not, however, have a majority by themselves.

British Seamen Vote To Call Off Wildcat Strike

LONDON June 25 (AP)—Striking seamen today called off their wildcat walkout which bottled up Britain's big dollar-earning transatlantic passenger fleet for 26 days in the midst of the tourist season.

Still out are 18,000 stevedores, their ranks divided in an inter-union fight for bargaining rights along the country's long waterfront.

The striking seamen — mostly dining room stewards and kitchen workers—demanded better living conditions at sea, a shorter work week and higher allowances while on shore.

Voting to go back to work on Monday, the seamen admitted many of their number already had returned because of dwindling funds and the government's move to draft those under 26 into the armed forces.

At Liverpool, where the strike began when more than 150 men walked off the Cunard liner Ascania, the seamen said they were returning to work on one condition—that the strike committee be reinstated in the merchant navy pool. Reports from Liverpool said the committee probably would be reinstated.

At Southampton, seamen who joined the strike June 4, gave up when they heard the Liverpool men had voted to go back to their ships.

When the strike was at its height about 630 men were out, most of them from the Queen Mary, the Mauretania and the Scythia.

With the strike settled the Cunard line arranged for the Mauretania to sail Monday and the Queen Mary Tuesday—both for New York.

At Liverpool the Parthia got up steam to sail before midnight. The Britannic's owners said she would sail for New York "some time next week."

The Cunard's new liner Ivernia will begin her maiden voyage from Glasgow July 1, and the Canadian Pacific's Empress of Australia—whose two round-trip voyages to Montreal were canceled—will sail next month.

The seamen's union refused to back the strike. Officials said they agreed with the men's objectives—but not their methods.

Officers of the National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union will address a number of meetings this weekend in an effort to get their men back to work.

Stevedores at Hull late today rejected the leaders' back-to-work call and decided to stay out in support of their claim for recognition.

NAACP Vows 'Unconditional Equality' By '63

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 25 (UP)—The nation's Negro leaders today vowed to win "unconditional equality" of civil rights for all U.S. citizens by Jan. 1, 1963, the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's emancipation proclamation.

The leaders also urged using the force of law to "eliminate prejudices and misunderstandings which cause racial tensions."

A resolution passed at the annual convention of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People called for "elimination of all vestiges of second-class citizenship under which Negro Americans still suffer."

The NAACP set these civil rights objectives:

1. Equality of job opportunities.
2. Enactment of federal laws abolishing the poll tax.
3. Strengthening of the civil rights section of the Justice Department.
4. Elimination of segregation in public and private housing.
5. "Speedy and diligent implementation of the recent Supreme Court ruling outlawing segregation in public schools."
6. Enactment of laws guaranteeing non-segregated public accommodations, transportation and recreation facilities.
7. Nonsegregated hospital and health service.
8. "Complete and adequate protection of the safety and security of all persons . . ."
9. Initiation of federal, state and local programs for "education in race relations."

A second resolution said that United States' new role as world leader has thrust the country "into the spotlight more than ever as a nation which has not been fair to all of its citizens."

"We reiterate our belief in enlightened [illegible] been made toward the erasing of tension, both as a result of national action on the part of our government and many independent organizations.

"We recognize that tremendous forced legislation as a means of abrogating such tensions and urge continued and stronger efforts to eliminate prejudice and misunderstandings which cause racial tensions."

The resolution said the nation can enhance its international prestige by creating a climate at home [illegible] the causes of racial tensions cannot [illegible]."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is scheduled to address the closing session of the six-day convention tomorrow afternoon.

A new cotton [illegible] line will be softer and more durable if it is boiled in soapy water for five minutes before it is put up.

Peron Reported Seeking New Interior Minister

BUENOS AIRES, June 25—UP—President Juan D. Peron is seeking a new interior minister to replace Angel Borlenghi, who has held the top police post since Peron began his first term in 1946, it was reported Saturday.

The entire cabinet resigned Thursday to give Peron a free hand to make any changes he considers desirable as a result of the revolt a week previously.

The names of the new cabinet will not be announced officially until Monday at earliest, informed sources said. They predicted, however, that two top men will be replaced—the ministers of interior and air.

Changes also are anticipated in the less important ministries of education, communications and agriculture.

It was not immediately clear why Peron would wish to replace Borlenghi. He praised the federal police, along with the Army and the government-sponsored Generation of Labor, for their loyalty during the revolt in the speech he broadcast to the nation Thursday night.

(United Press—Movietone staff cameraman Al Waldron reported after he left Buenos Aires this week that some quarters there accused Borlenghi's department of arranging the burning of an Argentine flag two weeks ago Saturday in an incident officially blamed on Catholic demonstrators.

(If sub-surface resentment along these lines has reached serious proportions, it might account for Peron's decision to replace Borlenghi.)

Observers noticed, however, that Peron had nothing good to say about the air force. His only mention of the nation's air arm was the comment that the commander of the nearby Moron air base aided the rebels.

The army announced Friday night that 19 soldiers were killed and 69 wounded in the revolt. The San Martin grenadiers, who guarded Government House against air and ground attack, suffered heavier casualties than any other single unit—eight killed and 27 wounded.

Wheat Growers Vote On 1956 Market Quotas

CHICAGO, June 25—UP—Wheat growers in 36 states voted Saturday on whether to accept government marketing quotas on their 1956 crop.

Rejection of controls could lead to unrestricted wheat production in 1956, adding to an already huge surplus.

Agriculture Department experts predicted the vote would "be close." Up to 500,000 of the 950,000 wheat growers eligible were expected to cast their ballots in the largest vote since 1941. Quotas must be approved by a two-thirds majority.

The "difficult choice" offered the growers was to determine whether the government will support prices of the 1956 wheat crop at $1.81 or $1.19 a bushel—both far below this year's support price of $2.06.

The $1.81 support price—76 per cent of parity—would be provided only if two thirds of those voting approved marketing quotas calculated to keep plantings restricted to 55 million acres.

Rejection of quotas would mean a support price of only 50 per cent of parity—$1.19 a bushel. Farmers then could exceed acreage allotments without penalty, but they would get no price support loans.

States where wheat is a "bread-and-butter" crop usually favor quotas in order to get the higher support price.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson, conceding the growers faced a "difficult choice," offered the plan to encourage the farmer to try other crops in place of wheat and thus reduce the wheat surplus—estimated at a record 1 billion bushels.

Benson made the proposal on the theory that a guaranteed return of only 76 per cent would not be enough to cause the individual farmers to keep on growing more and more wheat as his major source of income.

Trabert Leading Parade Of Wimbledon Favorites

By STERLIN SLAPPEY

WIMBLEDON, England, June 25 (AP)—Tony Trabert led a parade of favorites into the quarter-finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships today but the Australian one-two punch of Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall loomed as a road block on his march to the title.

Trabert, playing better in every match as he seeks his first Wimbledon crown, added a deceptive chop shot to his power game in polishing off Narath Kumar of India 6-4, 6-2, 6-2 with machine-like precision. The top-seeded Cincinnati slugger never lost his own booming service as he controlled the match all the way before a crowd of 26,756.

Hoad was even more impressive. He all but blasted Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., off the court in the first two sets en route to a 6-4, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3 victory. The husky Aussie, ranked only fourth by the seeding committee, has had some trouble keeping his powerful game under control recently. But it was Larsen who had trouble controlling it today as Hoad repeatedly rifled in his first serve for points. His only slip came in the 13th game of the third set and Larsen was quick to capitalize for his only set.

Hoad now figures as Trabert's semi-final opponent, provided Trabert can beat defending champion Jaroslav Drobny and Hoad can take the veteran Budge Patty. Drobny, No. 6 seed, advanced by defeating young Bob Perry of Los Angeles 8-6, 6-3, 6-4, using his experience and court craft to turn back the youngster. Patty, seeded seventh, reached the round of eight yesterday.

Rosewall, who is seeded second and apparently is in the easier half of the draw, defeated Guiseppe Merlo of Italy 6-4, -61, 2-1 when Merlo walked off the court. The Italian told the referee his eyes were watering and he could not see the ball clearly. Rosewall next meets eighth-seeded Sven Davidson of Sweden.

Because of Britain's blue law banning all sports on Sunday, today's play was the last until Monday.

The other quarter-finalists are Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy, who defeated Gil Shea of Los Angeles 2-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4, and Denmark's Kurt Nielsen, a 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3 victor over Abe Segal of South Africa.

Trabert and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, the top-ranked doubles pair, had the fight of their lives before they rallied to defeat Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola of Italy 4-6, 16-18, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1.

Top-seeded Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and her second-seeded shadow, Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., paced an American advance into the women's quarter-finals.

Miss Hart needed only 27 minutes to wrap up a 6-1, 6-3 verdict over Joseta De Riba of Spain, using but nine of them in the rapid-fire first set.

Miss Brough was just as abrupt in defeating the beauteous Mrs. Heather Brewer of Bermuda 6-2, 6-2.

Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Alameda, Calif., seeded fifth, and Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., No. 6, also reached the quarter-finals.

Mrs. Knode whipped Britain's Shirley Bloomer 6-2, 6-2 and Miss Hard had a battle but subdued Australia's Mat. Carter 6-3, 6-3.

Paper Tiger Cops Edgemere Runs In 3-Horse Picture

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Paper Tiger put on a garrison stretch finish reminiscent of his famous daddy, Stymie, today and just got home in the final jump to capture the $28,300 Edgemere Handicap in a three-horse, blanket finish at Aqueduct.

Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs of New York, who owns Stymie, also owns Paper Tiger and the son's time of 1:50 2-5 for the mile and one eighth exactly duplicated Stymie's clocking when he won the 1946 Edgemere.

The judges had to look at the photo before awarding first money of $19,250 to Paper Tiger, who finished a head in front of the Greentree stable's Straight Face. The latter in turn got second money of $5,000 by a head over the Woodley Lane farm's Red Hannigan, the pacesetter.

In fourth place, another length and three-quarters away, was Southarlington, who won the Brandywine Handicap recently for his owner, J. Ross Clark II.

Little Conn McCreary, who used to pilot Stymie to some of his most famous victories, was aboard the old champion's son this cloudy afternoon. But it never looked as if Paper Tiger could make it as he ran seventh and last for more than a half-mile.

Paper Tiger paid $12.10, $5.70 and $3.90, while Straight Face was $4.40 and $3.30 to place and Red Hannigan $4.40 to show.

Souchak Marches Ahead In Western Open Tournament

PORTLAND, Ore., June 25 (AP)—Massive Mike Souchak, Durham, N. C., pounded his way to the lead in the third round of the Western Open golf championship here today with a 5-under-par 32-35—67.

Pale Hose Cool Red Sox With 2nd Straight Loss

BOSTON, June 25 (AP)—Chicago's firehouse White Sox backed Millard (Dixie) Howell's clutch relief pitching with home runs by Jim Busby, Sherm Lollar and Walt Dropo today to win their fifth straight game 8-3 at Boston's expense.

Busby's homer was good for three runs while the other two came with the bases empty.

The Red Sox, playing for the second day without hustle-guy Ted Williams, dropped their second in a row after entering the important series with a record of 14 wins in 16 starts.

Howell, who had pitched only three innings previously this season, came in with the bases loaded and two out in the third inning to quell a Red Sox rally.

Williams has been sidelined with a sore back.

Garrett, Campbell All Even Halfway Into Title Round

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 25 —(AP)—Joe Campbell of Purdue and Johnny Garrett of Rice Institute finished all-square at the end of the first half of their 36-hole National Collegiate Golf Tournament finals today.

Campbell, 19-year-old sophomore from Anderson, Ind., rallied to win two of the last three holes to square the match.

A second 18-hole match will be played tomorrow to round out the finals.

Garrett moved into the finals with a [illegible] 1-up, 19th-hole victory over Rex Baxter, University of Houston sophomore from Amarillo, Tex.

Campbell disposed of Florida's Pat Schwab, 6 and 4, in the morning. Schwab is from Dayton, Ohio.

Garrett, Houston city title holder and former Texas public links champion, won the eight and ninth holes to chalk up a 2-up lead over Campbell at the turn. Campbell lost the eighth with a three-putt green and a gust of wind blew his ball off the tee just as he swung on the ninth.

That quick cost Campbell, Indiana state amateur and public links champion, a stroke and the hole.

Garrett, who consistently outdrove Campbell 20 to 40 yards, increased his margin to 3-up on the 11th with a par 3. An erratic putter again cost Campbell the hole.

Campbell, who had shot even-par golf on the long Holston Hills course in ousting Schwab, cut Garrett's margin to 2-up on the 14th with a par 3.

They halved the 15th with par 4s, and then Campbell won two straight holes to pull abreast of Garrett.

3-2 Loss Drops Indians 6 Games Behind Leaders

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)— Jim Konstanty, 38-year-old relief man, stopped Cleveland for the second straight day today as Bob Cerv's seventh-inning pinch single enabled the New York Yankees to make it two in a row over the Tribe, 3-2. The defeat dropped the third-place Indians six full games behind the leading Yanks.

Cerv's single, following Andy Carey's leadoff double against Art Houtteman, broke a 2-2 tie. Yogi Berra's 14th homer with Gil McDougald on second base in the sixth had brought the Yanks up even with the Indians, who held a 2-0 lead on Al Smith's 12th homer with Bobby Avila on base in the first of the sixth.

Konstanty was called from the bullpen by Manager Casey Stengel when starter Eddie Lopat complained that something was wrong with the index finger of his left hand as he warmed up for the seventh. It developed that Lopat's finger was becoming tender although no blister had appeared.

Konstanty received credit for the victory, boosting his season record to 6-0 while Houtteman, who allowed only six hits, was charged with his third defeat...

A crowd of 29,838 saw the Yanks down Cleveland for the fourth time in 10 meetings and hold their two-game edge on the runnerup Chicago White Sox.

Tomicki Skids, But Holds Bat Lead; Gilbert Climbs

By J. P. FRIEND
Cotton States Statistician

Bernie Tomicki, Meridian infielder, lost 40 points last week but maintained first place in the Cotton States League batting for the period ending with Tuesday night games.

Tomicki, who does an equally good defensive job wherever placed — he already has performed at first, third and in the outfield — collected but seven hits in six games with his new Miller surroundings and went from .427 to .387 on the toboggan ride. In 27 games and 93 official tries Tomicki connected 36 times with eight doubles, a triple and five home runs.

Jim Davenport, the former Mississippi Southern star, went on a spree and slipped into second place with .365. The El Dorado third baseman posted 25-10, including three homers, for the six-point gain.

Hitting savagely in all but one start during the week, Monroe's brilliant Marshall Gilbert picked up 12 points in his surge to the top where he held forth during early part of the season. The Twin Cities Sports first sacker fired a lusty 25-11 and zoomed to .351 and the No. 3 position, as compared to ninth a week ago. Gilbert kept his lead in hits, 71, and total bases, 117, but slipped behind George Blash, Meridian, in the runs batted in derby. Marshall has 52, one behind the Miller pace setter.

Ed Rippili, Monroe hot corner guardian, dropped from second to fouth on a 17-point slide to a .350 by virtue of only six safeties in 22 attempts.

Hugh Glaze, Greenville second baseman, went back into sixth at .342 a gain of three with a 22-8 chart.

Gordon Bragg, Hot Springs outfielder, turned in the week's best card to regain a challenging position held earlier in the race. His sizzling 36-15 netted 16 points to .347. Bob Hantak, Monroe, .339; Lee Neyman, El Dorado, .337 and Al Dale Velle, .333, round out the upper ten.

While out of the extra select group, Meridian's Tim Hastings earned special recognition with his busy bat. The first baseman-outfielder extended his consecutive skein to a dozen contests while bagging 27-13 and upping his mace mark 21 decimals to a neat .332. He took undisputed possession of the doubles contest with No. 15 and 16 to break last week's tie with Gilbert.

The other individual leaders kept their laurels through another keenly contested period: Bob Maness (.316), Monroe, 53 runs; Joe Lutz (.330), Hot Springs, 13 home runs; and Rudy Mayling (.299), eight triples.

Doug Kassay, Meridian (.263), has stolen 26 bases in 53 games. Rod Kanehl (.299), Monroe, swiped 17, one less than El Dorado's Bill LeFever (.272). Kassay has drawn 56 base on balls to Bob Cotheran's 55 for Vicksburg. The latter is hitting .245.

Bill Anderson, new Hot Springs outfielder, has not played sufficiently to rate leadership contention but has done very well in his first 10 games with the Bathers. He is sporting .395. One of his best showings was a 4-4 feast during his second appearance.

The 1955 season is almost half way over but three pitchers grace the unbeaten rolls, though comparative newcomers. Bill Kirk and Tom Grant, Hot Springs, triumphed in their first three decisions, while Ray Garbutt, El Dorado, sports a 2-0 record.

Two hurlers won their ninth win during the week. Dick Mainauer, El Dorado, blanked Hot Springs Tuesday night to keep the Oilers in the thick of the fight for the right to play host to the annual All-Star game next month. He has lost only three. After three fruitless tries, Bob Wiltse, Greenville lefty, finally got back in the winning groove for No. 9, also at the expense of the menacing Bathers. He dropped five. Teammate Marvin Kelly has a fine 7-4 record.

Bill Drummond, Monroe, leads in winning percentage with 6-1 for .857. Dave Oliphant, Meridian and Ed Dick, Monroe have 4-1 apiece. George Bielk, El Dorado, Pete Calder, another Oiler dependable and Bob Shipman, Monroe, all have 5-2 to date. Rod Tangeman, Hot Springs, has 6-3. [illegible] is making no [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] with 90. Ed Gilman [illegible] [illegible] with 89, one more than Wiltse and [illegible]. Monroe leads in club batting, [illegible] to .282 for El Dorado. Hot Springs is fielding .965.

Milwaukee Falls Back To 3rd Spot Under 5-3 Defeat

MILWAUKEE, June 25 — (AP) — Brooklyn's Don Newcombe completed the circle this afternoon when his 5-3 victory over the Milwaukee Braves made him the first pitcher in the majors to whip every opponent this season.

Facing Milwaukee for the first time this campaign, Newcombe shows just one loss. He needed help from Karl Spooner to get the final out. The high stepping Dodgers thus reached their 50th victory, a point they didn't reach last year until July 10.

The Braves' defeat let the Chicago Cubs, the only team to beat Newcombe this year, get back into second place by virtue of their 6-4 verdict over Pittsburgh. Milwaukee dipped down to third, one game behind the Cubs and 14 in back of Brooklyn.

Gene Conley, reaching for his 10th victory, was lifted after a liner off Newcombe's bat hit him on his pitching arm just above the elbow in the fifth inning. Conley finished the frame but was relieved then and went to the clubhouse where the trainer said he suffered just a bruise.

Conley gave up six Dodgers hits and three runs before he left. It was his fifth loss.

Wearing a gown of white crystallette taffeta made on classic lines, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The pleated yoke of the long torso bodice was outlined in delicate Alencon lace, the sleeves were short. The same lace was used on the very full skirt to outline the peplum. Miss Ann Shafto was the maid of honor. The other attendants included Miss Frances Guthrie, Miss Olive Moss, Miss Mary Murphy Moss, both of Lake Charles and Miss Jo Marie Ellett, all cousins of the bride. Mrs. Munholland received her guests in a maize lace dress with which she wore a small hat of the same color and material. She pinned a spray of stephanotis on her purse. The grooms' mother assisted her in receiving and was wearing a soft yellow chiffon dress with small matching hat trimmed in a single rose. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

The very bouffant skirt with lace applique ended in a chapel train. A satin cap appliqued in lace embroidered in sequins held her veil of illusion and she carried a single white orchid surrounded by Fleur d'Amour and stephanotis.

Miss Jo Rhodes was the bride's only attendant. Her gown was of ice blue nylon tulle, fashioned with shirred bodice with delicate shoulder fischu. The skirt was full. She wore a halo of ice blue peau de soie trimmed with a single blue rose and carried a crescent shaped bouquet of blush pink carnations and verigated ivy.

Miss Sandra McAdams Weds In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Sandra Jane McAdams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McAdams, became the bride of Arthur Bernardo Johnson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of this city, in a beautiful afternoon ceremony at 4 o'clock Saturday, June 11, in the First Christian Church. The Rev. R. T. Watson performed the impressive double-ring ritual.

An arch of white cathedral tapers accentuated a background of southern smilax and white gladiolas which decorated the church altar. Marking the path of the wedding party to the altar were tall white floral arrangements and a myriad of tall slender tapers.

Mr. Bob Oldenburg was organist and accompanied Miss Sara Batton who sang "At Dawning," "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over ivory taffeta. A high scallopped neckline topped the sculptured bodice which fastened down the back with tiny lace - covered buttons. The same detail was followed in the long tight - fitting sleeves which came to points over the hands. Her bouffant skirt, worn over Natchez hoops, fell in deep scallops over nylon tulle forming a graceful chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a seed-pearl crown.

She carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis with white satin streamers centered with a purple-throated white orchid.

Mrs. J. W. McClain served as matron of honor. She was attired in an attractive royal blue lace waltz-length gown with a low neck fashioned along princess lines with a full skirt. The bodice was outlined in blue velvet.

Serving as bride-maids were Miss Helen Johnson and Miss Joanne Genung. Their gowns were identical to Mrs. McClain's.

The cnadlelighters were Miss Lorna Montgomery and Miss Alice Montgomery.

Mr. Carl Johnson was the bridegroom's best man. Groomsmen were Charles McAdams and Edward Johnson.

Mrs. McAdams, the bride's mother, chose for the wedding a pale blue lace over tulle with short sleeves and a scalloped neckline. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Johnson, was becomingly attired in a mauve lace with navy accessories complemented by cymbidium orchids.

Reception Held

Bayou DeSiard Country Club was the scene of the reception which followed the wedding.

The bride's table overlaid in white satin and tulle with garlands of gardenias and southern smilax along the scallopped edges, was centered with a tall wedding cake beautifully embossed in white and topped with a minaiture bride and groom. Mrs. Paul Adams served the wedding cake.

The punch services were placed on a matching table and held silver candelabra with cathedral tapers.

Mrs. Ernest Murphree was in charge of the bride's book, which was placed on a round table decorated with a memory candle.

Tall baskets of white gladiolas were placed at each end of the receiving line. Mass arrangements of blue and white majestic daisies were also tastefully arranged at vantage points in the club lounge.

For a wedding trip to Fort Walton, Fla., the bride changed to a tan silk model, with a full skirt and matching silk duster. She wore matching accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Upon return, they will be at home on Lake Shore Drive.

The bride graduated from Neville High School, attended Cottey College, in Nevada, Missouri and is a student at Northeast State College. She holds membership in Magnoperium at Cottey, Phi Lambda Tau at Northeast and Delta Kappa Pi.

MRS. FLINT ROBERTSON

Troth Pledged In Afternoon

The First Methodist Church of Bastrop was the scene Sunday afternoon, June 12th of the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Jacqueline Rose Wroten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Wroten, and Flint Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Robertson, all of Bastrop.

The Reverend R. H. [illegible] officiated at the double ring ceremony assisted by Reverend Frank Harris of Welch, before an altar banked with magnolia foliage and emerald greenery. Cathedral tapers in seven branched candelabra cast a soft glow over bouquets of white gladioli and pom pom chrysanthemums. White satin bows marked the pews at the center aisle.

Miss Mary Ann Wilson, organist rendered a program of nuptial music. She also accompanied Miss Margaret Bingham of Winnsboro, who sang.

Guests were ushered to their seats by Bertney Landry, Peade Parker, Richard Smith, Bill Boyd and [illegible]. [illegible] were the mothers of the bridal couple. Mrs. Wroten chose a frock of pale blue lace with cotton satin trim with hat and slippers of white. Her corsage was an orchid. Mrs. Robertson's gown was mauve lace with a V neckline outlined in sequins. With this she wore a hat of pleated chiffon with sequins. An orchid corsage completed her costume.

After the mothers had taken their places, Miss Nelda Ruth Barnett and Miss Sally Garnier lighted the candles. Their dresses were identically styled of pale blue crystalette and lace. They wore bandeaus of matching pleated lace and wrist corsage of feathered pink carnations.

Miss Patsy Wroten, sister of the bride, attended her as maid of honor and Mrs. Bertney Landry, another sister, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Dan Barr of Shreveport, Mrs. James Bryant of Lake Charles, Miss Ava Dean Terry and Miss Peggy Mallette. They were gowned identically in dresses of ballerina length ice blue nylon embroidered organdy styled with fitted bodices of embroidered ruffles over nylon tulle with matching stoles. They carried dainty net fans on which were placed Briarcliff pink roses. In their hair were bandeaus of matching net pleated with a dainty nosegay of pink flowers at the side.

Little Miss Karen Robertson, sister of the bridegroom, dressed in a pale blue net floor length frock, scattered rose petals in the path of the bride. Master Jack Wroten Dudley of Ed Couch, Tex., cousin of the bride was ringbearer.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Her gown was of white Chantilly lace over moonglow satin fashioned with a sculptured bodice, low round neckline outlined with medallions of lace embroidered in sequins and seed pearls. The bodice fastened in the back with tiny, self-covered buttons and long fitted sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The bouffant skirt, posed over hoops, fell in graceful folds in the front to reveal an inset of pleated nylon tulle and ending in a chapel length train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a brocaded headdress embroidered in sequins and pearls. Her bouquet was fashioned of a purple throated orchid encircled by stephanotis, lilies of the valley and Fleur de Amour.

Jimmy Robertson served his brother as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor, in a setting of white gladioli and majestic daisies similar to the decorations of the church.

Guests were registered at the entrance by Miss Elaine Gelson of Baton Rouge and [illegible] the bridal couple, their mothers and the wedding party formed the receiving line.

The serving table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a crystal bowl of daisies encircled by blue tapers in silver holders. At one end of the table was the tiered wedding cake and at the opposite end the punch service. Mrs. Thomas Green and Mrs. S. E. [illegible] alternated at the punch bowl and the wedding cake was served by Mrs. Bill Dudley of Ed Couch, Tex. and Mrs. T. B. Dampwood. Tea girls assisting were: Miss Betty B[illegible] Kelly of El Dorado, Ark., Miss Yvonne Wicker, of Zachary, Mrs. Frank H[illegible] of [illegible], Miss Pat [illegible] of Shreveport and Miss Laura Ann [illegible].

Also assisting were Mrs. C. B. [illegible], Mrs. Willard [illegible] and Mrs. Warren Stephens.

After the reception the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to Daytona Beach, Florida. For traveling Mrs. Robertson chose a two piece model of [illegible] cotton featuring a slim skirt and white [illegible] trim. With this she wore a matching hat and white accessories. Pinned at her shoulder was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Girl Scout News

Some girls we know are having a lot of fun and learning a lot, too, in cooking classes for Girl Scouts sponsored by United Gas and taught by their home service representatives, Peggy Hemphill, and Barbara Lindsay. Based on the Foods and Cook badges in the Homemaking field, the course included preparation of breakfast dishes, a simple luncheon and a dinner and making cookies.

The girls see movies on foods, table setting and the like, discuss and practice table manners, actually serve and eat the food they have prepared. In the regular Girl Scout way, with kaper charts and job descriptions, the girls carry out their share of the work in patrols. Learn by doing, in other words.

Looking in on Friday's class an observer would have found the girls preparing a casserole dish, a green salad, baked apples for dessert. With the table set with green and white china, and the girls acting as host, hostess, waitresses, cooks, and dishwashers, the girls enjoyed the luncheon they had prepared.

On the last day of the course, the girls invited their mothers and friends to a coffee hour. At this time they served the cookies they had made earlier in the week — three or four kinds. At this time, too, the instructors presented each girl with an attractive certificate saying that she had qualified for the Foods and Cook badges.

During the course, each girl used a booklet prepared for her by the instructors. In it are the recipes and methods used, and the girls plan to use what they have learned to help mother at home.

Enrolled in the class which ended Friday were: Jan Gentry, Bennie Grant, Mary Kathryn Kite, Susie Quillen, Anne Quillen, Sandra Shutting, Linda Engstrom, Kay Snelling, Sydney Greenblatt, Mary Lynn Armstrong, Lynn Hamin, Judy Pankey, Georgia Butler, Pattie Williams, Jean Wroten, Shirley Dean, Kathleen Cochran, Anne Rinehart, Brenda Calhoun, Charlotte Overton, Gayle Dunn, Cynthia Leigh, Gay Hargrove, Barbara Jackson, Susan Hubka, Beverly Bartlett, Barbara Worley, Donna Thompson, Sissi Loftin, and Kay Butler.

Starting tomorrow in the second group are: Heidi Rowan, Donna Adair, Maureen Kelly, Lea Sakins, Mary Lee Milstead, Diana Jordan, Frances Norman, Deanna Furlow, Eileen Ewing, Diane Ewing, Janet Beard, Ronnie Wilds, Marian Ashley, Carol Groves, Anne Hemphill, Mignon Scogin, Ginger Dean, Beth Fink, Geraldine Clark, Maudia Jean Strickland, Linda Crow and Tommy Jean Dixon.

Swimming ended Friday. Now the next big event of the summer is day camp.

Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners!
162 H.P. V8
180 H.P. V8
See that fine fat mountain yonder?
You can iron it out, flat as a flounder . . . and easy as whistling!
Just point one of Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners at it (either the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" or the 180-h.p. "Super Turbo-Fire"*) . . . and pull the trigger!
Barr-r-r-r-o-o-O-O-OOM!
Mister, you got you a flat mountain!
. . . At least it feels flat. For these Chevrolet V8's gobble up the toughest grades you can ladle out. And holler for more. They love to climb, because that's just about the only time the throttle ever comes near the floorboard.
And that's a pity. For here are engines that sing as sweetly as a dynamo . . . built to pour out a torrent of pure, vibrationless power. Big-bore V8's with the shortest stroke in the industry, designed to gulp huge breaths of fresh air and transmute it into blazing acceleration.
So most of the time they loaf. Even at the speed limit they just dream along, light and easy as a zephyr, purring out an effortless fraction of their strength.
An engineer instantly understands why these V8's are so hyper-efficient . . . how friction is held so low they need just four quarts of oil instead of the usual five or more . . . how big valves let them "breathe" deeply for maximum power.
But you don't have to be an engineer to know that these are the sweetest running V8's you ever piloted. Just come in, slip behind the wheel, and point the nose at the nearest hill. These V8's can do their own talking . . . and nobody argues with them!
*Optional at extra cost.

MISS JO ELLEN PIRTLE'S engagement and approaching marriage to Lesley Columbus Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Columbus Clark of Belzoni, Miss., is announced today by her mother, Mrs. Edward Julian Shipp of Winnsboro. The wedding will be solemnized on Sunday, August 21, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Baptist Church of Winnsboro.

Miss Betty Jane Rives Is Married In Wesley Chapel

A wedding beautiful in the tradition of the month of brides took place at 6:30 o'clock Saturday, June 11, when Miss Betty Jane Rives pledged her marriage vows to Victor Pitre Vegas. The ceremony, one of the major weddings of the season, took place at Wesley Chapel, near St. Joseph.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Rives of St. Joseph. Mr. Vegas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vegas of Westwego.

The vows were exchanged before a traditional green and white background illuminated by white cathedral tapers in branched candelabra. Magnolias and ivy covered the altar rail around which were tall baskets of white gladiolas.

The Rev. Arthur Baker officiated. Music was presented by Mrs. J. L. Lee, organist, of Baton Rouge. She also accompanied the singers, Miss Alice Lewis of Natchez, Miss., and Mr. Tunney Terrebonne of Golden Meador.

Wearing an exquisite gown of ivory satin and imported lace, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The gown featured a round neckline of silk illusion outlined in seed pearls and long tight sleeves which ended in petal points over the wrist. The bouffant satin skirt was inserted with a wide panel of lace and extended into a full circular train. Her crown was adorned with seed pearls and held her chapel length veil of silk illusion. She carried a picturesque bridal bouquet of white calla lilies.

Miss Catherine Ann Rives served her sister as maid of honor. Her waltz length gown was fashioned of pink lace and taffeta featuring a round neckline and brief sleeves. Her headdress was a small bandeau of pink lilies of the valley. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Jewell Vegas of Westwego and Miss Pat Bolin of Huntsville, Ala.

The bride's young sister, Gail Rives and her cousin, Cathy Bolin of Huntsville, Ala., were flower girls. Their formals were fashioned of pink lace and taffeta, with which they carried baskets of pink rose petals.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Mr. Herbert Fondren of Morgan City. Groomsmen and ushers were Roland Samson of Baton Rouge, James Guice of Winnsboro, William Wade Watson of St. Joseph and Tunney Terrebonne of Golden Meadow.

Mrs. Rives chose for her daughter's wedding a rose lace and chiffon enhanced by crystal beads and an orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Vegas, was attired in a becoming pale blue lace. She also wore an orchid.

At seven o'clock, following the wedding, the bride's parents entertained with an elaborate reception at Deltabridge Plantation, their home near St. Joseph.

The receiving line stood in the garden near the Colonial home.

The guest book was placed on a round table overlaid in white and illuminated by pink tapers.

A lace cloth over white organdy and satin overlaid the bride's table which was centered with a beautifully embossed wedding cake of tiered columns. Pink tapers, daisies and gladiolas were also tastefully arranged at points in the garden.

For a wedding trip to Lake Lure, N. C., the bride changed to a blue cotton suit with navy and white accessories with a white orchid corsage.

Upon return they will make their home in San Antonio, Tex., where Mr. Vegas is stationed with the Air Force.

The bride is a graduate of Louisiana State University and holds membership in Phi Mu. The bridegroom finished at Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bolin and family of Huntsville, Ala.; Dr. and Mrs. John Grace, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lee, Mrs. Ena Hardcastle, all of Baton Rouge; Miss Ruth Pitre, Mr. Victor Pitre, Mrs. H. C. Marquis, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vegas, Miss Olga Vegas, all of Westwego; Miss Daisy Clemento, Miss Pat Harmon, both of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Freezer Owners Should Watch Weather Changes

LINCOLN, Neb — Home equipment specialists say a weather forecast may be the cue to set the temperature control of the home freezer at its lowest point.

A heavy storm may affect the power supply, so it is wise to get contents of the freezer as cold as possible, if one is forecast.

"The colder the food," they said, "the longer it will stay frozen without electricity."

Bulletin Supply Is Exhausted

Freezing, Canning, Pickling

Homemakers are busy conserving the needed supply of vegetables. Calls from homemakers on this subject indicate these housewives want to have the best possible products for their families. Some are still confused about certain methods, as the necessity of blanching vegetables before freezing. Let me quote to you the recommendations made by the L. S. U Extension Service concerning this question. "All vegetables should be blanched (scalded) before freezing, except sweet peppers and rhubarb, which contain enough acid to be classed with fruits. If vegetables are not thoroughly blanched they will lose their natural color and develop an unpleasant flavor and odor. The time of blanching varies with the product. For hot water blanching, the vessel must be large enough to hold at least one gallon of water for each pound of vegetable used. The water must be boiling vigorously when vegetables are immersed. Move blanching basket up and down in the boiling water during blanching period. Quick cooling of blanched product is most important. Cooling in ice water is best." Another thing which is very important to canning and freezing is to use fresh products. For quality products follow this motto, "One hour from the garden to can or freezer." For further information call me at 3-2251. Time for processing snap beans has been reduced. It is, pint jars, 20 minutes, quarts, 25 minutes at 10 pounds of pressure (240 degrees).

Do not can cabbage, make it into sauer kraut.

Where To Get Fresh Products

The service offered those having surplus vegetables and those wanting fresh vegetables has grown each week. Let's continue it. Producers call between 8:00 and 9:00 a.m. and consumer call after 9:00.

Using The Outdoors For Family Living

Are your home grounds meeting your family needs? As you use outdoors this summer, you may see many things you need to improve for convenience and beauty. By listing your needs and by starting your landscape plan now, you will have ample time to wisely plan before planting time. If you haven't sufficient shade, locate where you need to plant a tree—put it on the plan. You may find you would like more privacy. If so, plan where and how to obtain it — as on spacious grounds, privacy may be obtained by planting shrubs — but if space is limited, by using a fence or wall. The twenty-three home demonstration clubs will be making landscape plans during the months of July and September. These club members invite you to get this information with them. Bring the measurements of your home grounds, a sheet of graft paper and a ruler. By doing your own plan you make your site your very own, designing it to meet the needs of your family.

Watch Digging Around Trees And Shrubs

Many yard owners make the mistake of digging too vigorously around trees and shrubs to improve their growth. Many of the roots of mature plants are close to the surface, and if these roots are destroyed by too much digging there is no benefit and much damage. The addition of fertilizer at the same time does not compensate for the injury done. Often it is more useful to maintain a continunious mulch of decaying leaves or similar material than either to cultivate or fertilize under ornamental hardy plants.

Vinca Plants Obtainable

Mr. Parker has plenty of periwinkle plants that must be moved next week. Call him Monday at 3-2251 if you are interested.

Thanks To Home Demonstration Clubs for Splendid Cooperation

The lunch served at the State Pecan Growers' Association was quite a success because the clubs really cooperated. (Only one club failed to participate.) These organizations are to be congratulated upon their splendid work. The agent takes this opportunity to say "Thanks a million." Its' wonderful to work with such wonderful women.

Church Vows Unite Couple

The marriage of Miss Opal Brand, daughter of Mrs. A. M. Brand and the late Mr. Brand of Winnsboro and W. H. Jones, also of Winnsboro was solemnized recently in the Baskin Methodist-Presbyterian Church with the Reverend W. D. Morris, officiating.

Baskets of white gladioli and stock with burning tapers decorated the altar. Miss Kathleen Goforth was pianist and Mrs. J. W. Jarrett, soloist.

Miss Edwina Walker and Miss Doris Boney were bridesmaids. Their dresses were mint colored, identical in make to that worn by the maid of honor, as were the accessories and bouquets.

Patricia Ann McGrew and Linda Kay Owens, nieces of the bride, were the flower girls. They wore gowns of white net over mint green taffeta identical to ones worn by the bridesmaids. They carried baskets of white daisies. The ring bearer was Master Johnny Owens, nephew of the bride. The candles were lighted by Jackie McMullen and Ben Clay.

DR. B. R. LACY, JR.

Dr. Lacy, Head Of Union Seminary, Guest Speaker

Dr. Benjamin Rice Lacy Jr., president of Union Theological seminary, Richmond, Va., will be guest speaker at the Monroe First Presbyterian church at the 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. service on Sunday, June 26.

He will take for his subject, "For Our Own Generation."

Rev. Wade McFadden, pastor, invited not only his church membership and congregation but also those denominations in the Monroe area. They are invited to hear a speaker of unusual distinction.

Year-Long Chain Of Prayer Planned By Methodists

First Methodist Church, Monroe, is among more than 1200 churches taking part in a year-long "chain of prayer" developed by the prayer life movement of the general board of evangelism of the Methodist Church.

On July 24 members of the congregation will take turns in a 24-hour vigil, adding another link in the 365 days of continuous prayer.

They will be relieved by other groups as day and night, around the clock, clergymen, laymen, women and children kneel at the altars of city and country churches.

On New Year's Day the chain's first links were hammered out in the prayers of Methodists in eleven cities and towns — joining the staff and employees of the Methodist general board of evangelism and three of the Nashville churches in The Upper Room Chapel were churches in — New York, Washington, Chicago, Memphis, San Antonio, Phoenix, Ariz., Ashland, Ky., Minter City, Miss., Holden, Mo., and Springfield, Ore.

Every day of the year is scheduled for two or more churches. When the last "Amen" is whispered next January 1, 1956 at 6 p. m., in churches of Ogden, Utah, and Allston, Mass., it is estimated that 50,000 to 100,000 persons will have participated in the relay prayer.

Peace is expected to be at the top of most prayer lists, tying in with the Methodist crusade for world order, a churchwide emphasis in 1955. Pastors are asked to meet with their prayer teams to discuss community and national needs, and world areas of concern.

This prayer movement is sponsored by the Methodist board of evangelism, Nashville, Tenn., and is one of the great prayer programs being developed by the "prayer life movement" for 1955. "We hope that prayer cells will be formed in every Methodist home and church, and that other denominations will join us," said Dr. Harry Denman, executive secretary of the board.

QUESTION: "Just why should we be baptized?" . . . R. B.

ANSWER: I know that the subject of baptism has bothered many people. It has been a deep and wide river between the Church of Christ and the denominational world. The bible is as plain on this subject as it is on any other. We will let the bible answer the question for you. We should be baptized for the following reasons:

1. To be saved. Mark 16:16 "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned."

2. For the remission of sins. Acts 2:38 "Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost."

3. [illegible]

4. [illegible] Christ.

5. [illegible] of life."

6. [illegible] forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we? And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord."

8. And "baptism doth also now save us." I Pet. [illegible] some time were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water. The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Friends I do believe these verses from God's word should convince you to be baptized for it is taught too plain for you to misunderstand it. Send all questions to 210 Vernon St. West Monroe, La. Adv.

GRAY MOSS is used as a screen to completely cover the wire fence in the yard of Elizabeth and John Gebhardt on Pecan Drive. Since Spanish moss gathers food and water from the air it will continue to cling to the fence almost indefinitely.

THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

Moss Is Cover For Wire Fence

Remember a few years ago in this column I told you about a picture of a fence made with wire, with Louisiana gray moss completely covering the wire. Dot Searcy gave me a clipping from a magazine describing this fence and it was so attractive, I passed it on to you. Well — there's such a fence in my neighbor's yard. Elizabeth and Johnny Gebhardt, 111 Pecan Grove, have just completed one. Really — it is the most beautiful form of screen planting I have ever seen, as you can see in the picture. Several people have asked Elizabeth if the moss will hold up since it is not clinging to a living tree. Since this Spanish moss is not a parasite but gathers food and moisture from the air, there is no reason why it shouldn't last the life of the fence.

The gray moss in the background is just lovely with the dainty tracery of green shrubs in front. Elizabeth plans no heavy planting since the fence gives privacy.

Gray In The Garden

We usually associate gray with old age because of gray hair. But —had you ever noticed the amount of gray in the landscape? There are gray rocks, gray houses and gray in the atmosphere on cloudy days. One would never think of featuring a garden with all gray plants, but for special interest it is really superb. Gray is neutral in color so will never clash with other colors.

There are a number of gray plants that add interest to our garden. Mullein that grows wild in Ouachita parish, is one of these. It is often called flannel plant because the texture of the foliage is very much like that of the flannel textile. The leaves are large, the lower ones often measuring from 18 to 24 inches in length. There's an inconspicuous spike flower that re-seeds itself when it falls to the ground. The flower arrangers like the leaf of this plant.

Hen and chickens, (Sempervirum) is a gray leaf plant that will grow well outside or as a pot plant inside. Anna Gray Noe gave me a start of this plant several years ago and we enjoy the gray foliage growing in an old iron pot sitting on our patio. The leaves are fleshy. The stems fall over and so are never very tall. Another excellent arrangement plant.

Since Susie and John Brown have grown Artichoke so successfully, I'm sure we will see more of this gray-green plant with it's tropical looking thistle - like leaves.

Vitex, which is really a small tree has foliage that is gray on the under side. Spanish moss is lovely in very large gardens, with its drooping beard hanging from old trees. Pussy willow gives a fuzzy gray effect when cut and it is valuable in floral work.

Get Busy

This is the last month you can fertilize your shrubs and small trees. Use 5-10-5 or 8-8-8. Be careful of any heavy digging around your plants. There are lots of feeder roots there and you will destroy them. These roots are the life line of your plants as they take up food and water to carry to the plant. The safest practice is to keep a good mulch around shrubs and small trees.

Food Notes

Now here's some interesting menu news for Mrs. Housewife. During the month of June you can feed your family sausage, beef liver or hamburger for less than ten cents per serving. From ten to twenty cents per person they can eat beef stew meat, brisket or chuck; pork ribs and chops, backbone and smoked picnic; veal stew or shoulder roast; lamb neck stew or shoulder chops. Now — going into the better cuts of meat for twenty to thirty cents per serving, you can eat beef top round or standing rib; veal loin chops; prok cooked ham; or lamb rib chops. For that extra treat the family can have beef sirloin steak or lamb loin chops for from thirty to forty cents per serving.

Daisy Terzia says her family has enjoyed the potato au gratin recipe we cooked on open house. Let me say here that the recipe is not original with me — though I've used it for years. It came from either Cele Parker, Virginia Windes or Jack Burgess. All three have contributed so much to my recipe files. Here is the recfpe.

2 cups cooked chopped potatoes.
3 tablespoons margarine or butter.
2 pods garlic.
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt.
3 green onions (tops too)
1 cup milk.
½ teaspoon black pepper.
1 cup cubed cheese.
½ bell pepper.
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce.

Melt fat in a sauce pan. Saute onions and bell pepper. Add flour, salt and pepper. Add milk gradually and stir. Add garlic and cheese. Pour this mixture over potatoes in a casserole. Sprinkle paprika over top. Bake at 375 degrees for 15 minutes.

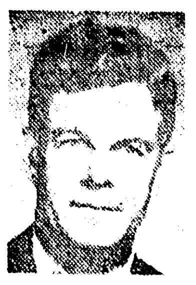
Dates!

Monday on Open House, Marianne May, assistant agent from Lincoln parish will give you "Good Manners"; Tuesday an experienced cosmetician will show us how to use make up; Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring the three blue ribbon flower arrangements from the garden center and we'll have some gardening; Thursday, Mrs. Roger Klam will prepare some of her famous recipes; and Friday is Marketing Day.

See you next Sunday.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

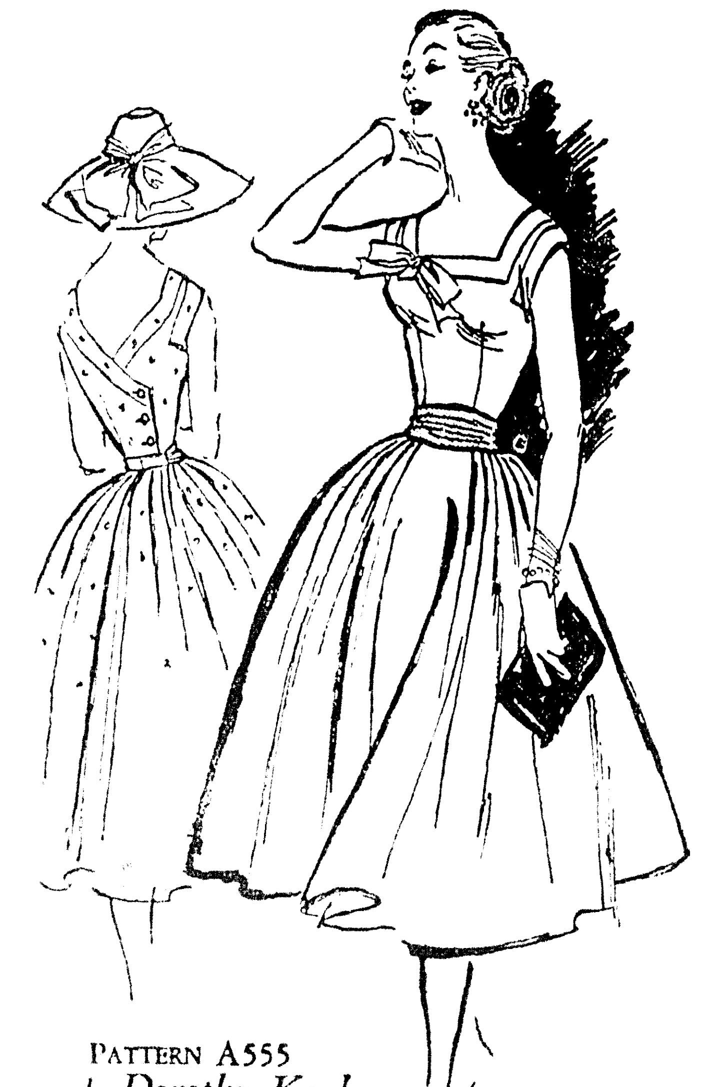


Dusting Sulphur Will Rid Chiggers

If chiggers have invaded your garden, you can get rid of them by dusting the paths and the places where you must go in the garden with common dusting sulphur. It really is a sign that you are a good gardener if you have chiggers because these little pests live only in humus and decaying wood. You will not care for the compliment after they have bitten you, however. If they do, you can get relief by taking a tub bath to which you have added four to six tablespoonfuls of common household ammonia. After a good soapy bath, sit in the water for five or ten minutes and read seed catalogues and gardening magazines, and when you come out you will be enormously relieved and fired with more gardening ideas.

It is time, again, to prune and preen the broadleaf evergreens. As soon as the new growths have got under way down inside shrubs like cape-jasmines and other forms of gardenia, you can cut off those long branches which you have been leaving to help the bushes along. This week is "last call" for feeding any woody plants, so do not miss this feeding if your shrubs need it. Low limbs on shade trees can be cut off to allow the air to pass through more freely. As your young trees get larger and larger, the lower limbs may be removed to provide that ideal condition for either yards or garden: high shade. In the south here where we have more sun than plants need, a shady garden can be a thing of great beauty. There are a great many plants which thrive in some shade and more than you might think which really like rather dense shade. The main thing one has to think about in the garden under trees is the starvation of such plants by the tree roots. If you feed both the plants and the trees, however, the shady garden will give you a great deal of pleasure. It is possible, if water is available, to transplant a great many things into shady areas right in the summer. Daylilies of all kinds will flower well if the shade is not too great. Periwinkle can be planted now as a ground cover if you can keep it watered. The hardy begonia evansiana will increase from year to year and spread by its little tubers in shady places if the soil is good. It has pink blooms, too, that are bright and interesting. Now is the time to plant red spider lilies in your shady graden for bloom in September or sooner. In the southern states, there are two different red spider - lilies that look just alike but bloom several weeks apart. The spider - lilies must have winter sun, so do not plant them underneath evergreens of any kind because the evergreen leaves would not be able to get enough light to make the bulbs flower. The little yellow sternbergias will grow in the same kind of place. Next week, we shall give a list of shade loving plants and some references to books and information on shady gardens.

SEPARATES WITH A 'DRESS' LOOK! DOROTHY KORBY'S COUTURE DESIGN



PATTERN A555
by Dorothy Korby

PROMINENT DESIGNER — Dorothy Korby pictures fashion for summer '55 — a three-part story in one smooth, continuous line! Made just for each other, these "dress look" separates — blouse and skirt, a shining blue sateen; cummerbund, cinching the waist with a splash of raspberry hue. They're young, wearable — not limited to any one occasion, for their lines are simple, easy flowing, ever flattering! Details are few, and cleverly concentrated at the neckline — in a perky bow, unusual back dip with asymmetrical buttoning (Miss Korby frowns on froufrou when the style itself is so becoming!) Her own sewing choices for this pattern original — tissue pique, linen, sateen, or one of the pretty ginghams so popular these summer evenings. You'll love the way you look!

Pattern A555 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 blouse and skirt require 5½ yards 35-inch fabric; cummerbund, ⅜ yard contrast.

Send FIFTY CENTS (in coins) for Pattern A555 to Morning World, Pattern Deptartment, P. O. Box 59, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Please print plainly YOUR NAME, ADDRESS with ZONE, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

La. Garden Club Federation Holds Informal Meeting

Mrs. N. P. Martone, president of the Louisiana Garden Club Federation entertained recently the newly elected officers, directors and chairmen of the federation in the beautiful Martone home, Bon Air Ranch in Iowa, Louisiana. Forty-three members attended the all day meeting, arriving at 10 a.m. for the coffee and social hour followed by a delightful luncheon after which an informal business session was held. Officers, chairmen and directors discussed plans for the coming year. Mrs. Stewart Hunt announced that the 22nd annual convention and the 8th State Flower Show would be held on March 3-4, 1956 in Ruston, Louisiana. Through Mr. R. L. Ropp, president of Louisiana Tech, an invitation was extended to the Louisiana Garden Club Federation to use the facilities of the college for the convention and show. The Federated Garden Clubs of the Fifth District will serve as the hostess clubs with Mrs. N. P. Martone, state president, and Mrs. E. B Knotts, fifth district director as honorary chairmen. General chairman of the convention and flower show is Mrs. Stewart Hunt, 1001 North Vienna Street, Ruston, with the following chairmen: Mrs. Zollie Meadows, Ruston, convention chairman, Mrs. Robert S. Wynn, co-chairman. Professor John A. Wright, Louisiana Tech, Ruston, flower show chairman, Mrs. Lamonte Wright, Pine Shadows, Ruston, staging chairman, Mrs. C. E. McKenzie, Monroe, schedule chairman, assisted by Judges' Council of the Fifth District. Mrs. Howard Henderson, banquet chairman, Mrs. John A. Wright, registration, Mrs. T. C. Beasley, luncheon chairman, Mrs. C. R. Adams, Winnsboro, courtesies chairman. Members of the Fifth District Judges Council will serve as hostesses for the traditional Sunday morning breakfast for accredited flower show judges. Dr. Edgar Anderson, director of the Shaw Botanical Gardens of St. Louis, Mo. will be the principal convention speaker. Most timely is the opportunity to hear Dr. Anderson for he and these beautiful gardens are in close proximity to the site of the proposed permanent home of the National Council of State Garden Club Federations.

The Fifth District was represented at the meeting by the following: Mrs. E. B. Knotts, Sicily Island, Fifth District Director, Mrs. Rupert Scott, Wisner, Treasure, Mrs. Stewart Hunt, Ruston, general chairman flower show and convention, Mrs. Robert Wynn, Ruston, radio and TV chairman, Mrs. Zollie Meadows, Ruston, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Norman Jardine, Monroe, Garden Centers chairman.

List Of Books On Gardens Will Help Planners

The Bayou DeSiard Garden Club of Monroe presented the colorful flower show at the Garden Center this week. Mrs. Archie Dickerson and Mrs. C. C Lucky served as judges. In the arrangement section first place was awarded to Mrs. H. W. Tolson. A most interesting container was used. Maroon in color, a square pillow type, with an open square in the center of the container. Perfect for the Hogarth design that Mrs. Tolson created. Coleus in red-violet shades into deep red was used to form the design and perennial phlox in red-violet emphasized the line. The arrangement was placed against a soft pink background. Mrs. Lucien A. Branch was awarded second place. Using a round flat basket Mrs Branch designed an informal summer arrangement of Shasta daisies suitable for a coffee table or informal luncheon table. Chartreuse background was used for this design. Mrs F. T Smith chose a large wooden salad bowl for her container and designed a mass arrangement of dock in shades of yellow - green and brown. Tall spikes of dill flowers in yellow-green color were used and the focal point was of brilliant orange marigolds. In the horticulture section ribbons were awarded to Mrs. Lucien A. Branch for coreopsis, and perennial phlox, and Mr H. W. Tolson for pink variegated verbena.

Our gardening magazines are getting better all the time. Both Flower Grower and Popular Gardening are featuring daylilies in the July issue. There are also excellent suggestions for landscape ideas for the home gardener. Since this is a do-it-yourself era we should give a little time and study to landscaping our new homes or re-designing our gardens. The best book I've found yet on the subject for the home gardener is Alice L. Dustan's "Landscaping Your Own Home." Summer time is a time for relaxing, reading, studying and planning our gardens for next spring. Flower show school No. III will be coming up this fall and the following books are required reading: Art of Color and Design by Maitland Graves, Color Notation by Munsell, Complete Book of Flower Arrangement, Rockwell and Grayson, All About House Plants by Montague Free, Woman's Home Companion Garden Book by Wister, Color in Flower Arrangement by Adelaide B. Wilson. Most of these books are available at the Garden Center library or your local library. Don't forget to plan now for fall planting of thos early daffodils for the state flower show the first week of March in 1956 at Ruston. Some early varieties are Diotima, Aerolite, Silver Star and Imperator. Order now from your seed store or nurseryman.

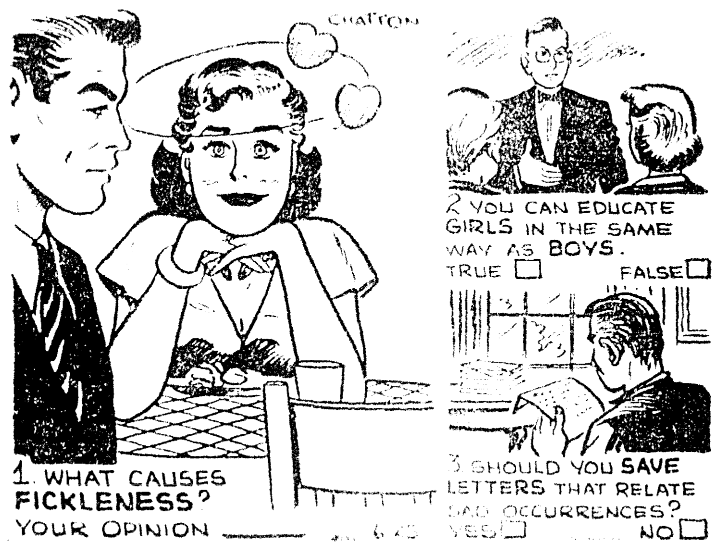
LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.



CHAFFON
1. WHAT CAUSES FICKLENESS?
YOUR OPINION ______
2. YOU CAN EDUCATE GIRLS IN THE SAME WAY AS BOYS.
TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐
3. SHOULD YOU SAVE LETTERS THAT RELATE SAD OCCURRENCES?
YES ☐ NO ☐

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Lack of character and experience in life and not being a grown-up. Persons of the opposite sex all look alike to the fickle. They have [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] noticed that some individuals [illegible] superior to others in personal attractiveness. They fall in [illegible] with any dimple, curl, smile, [illegible] they see; everyone has something that sweeps them off their feet. The only cure is to "quitcherkiddin'" and grow up—learn to judge the opposite sex by the qualities of mind, heart, and character — the only things that make love last.

What kind of mate do you want? How to Pick a Mate includes practical tests of personality, emotional maturity, and love. Send 15c (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope (name city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, c-o this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. False. Kate H. Mueller says in her enlightening book, "Educating Women for a Changing World": "At high-school level, the major areas for discussion and reading among girls are personal attractiveness, etiquette, and getting along with people; and for boys, money, health, safety, recreation, and civic affairs." In spite of giving them the same studies, their life interests and their personalities are not the same.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. Keep those that give you a lift, tell a funny story, give you a new thought, and above all, the ones that tell you good things about yourself. I have a file labelled "Letters To Preserve Because They Inspire." When I'm down in the mouth, I pull it out and glance through it. Henry S. tells me "what a fine speech I made"; Bob T. tells me my letter was "like a chapter out of Mark Twain." Mrs. S. K. writes that my column "changed her boy's life." Gosh, how these help me work to keep up my reputation!

WASHINGTON — Downtown businessmen here have thought up a new scheme to woo customers who've been shopping in the suburbs. They plan to provide an hour of free parking. A shopper will be able to park at any lot and then get a stamp at the store to cover the first hour of the parking fee. The businessmen believe it to be the only plan of its kind in the country.

In Hollywood

By Jimmy Fidler

Holly—A Great Place

By JAMES DEAN

(Guest columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, June 25 — All this business about New York being more emotionally suited for an actor than Hollywood is so much hogwash.

When an actor has to depend on what city he's in to perform, he might as well give up the profession.

I figure that an actor should be able to perform in any city in the world — whether it be New York, Hollywood or Podunk, U. S. A. In fact, the actor should be happy to be working wherever he can.

When Elia Kazan first brought me out to Hollywood to star in Warners' "East of Eden," I had the misconception about Hollywood that so many New York people have: that that glamour city was just a false, hard-hearted mass of concrete in which talent was only something to buy and sell like vegetables at a grocery store.

However, I was never so wrong in all my life. Hollywood is a great place to work and relax at the same time. After a hard day's chore you can always head for some quiet beach house away from all the high-pressure movie moguls.

While I was making my second picture for Warners, 'Rebel Without A Cause," I used to spend my week ends at Malibu Beach, playing volleyball, swimming, reading and forgetting about the preceding week. I find that any actor who is so dedicated to his work that he can't find time to relax will not last long in this business. After a week end at the beach, Monday morning found me fresh and raring to go to work. It proved to be a wonderful bit of self - imposed medication to get away from the hustle and bustle of Hollywood for the serenity and tranquility of a beach resort.

Not that I will give up New York entirely. The city is a great metropolis with everything that an actor can ask for. It's a fertile, wonderful, generous place to live, if one can accept the violence and cadence — which I have become used to. There are so many things to do.

For instance, when I'm in New York, I go to dancing school, take acting lessons, attend concerts, the opera, baseball and basketball games and sometimes drive up to the Catskills for some fishing and camping.

But as an actor I have learned that it matters not what city you may be in, you still must give out with a top performance if you wish to remain in this business for a good many years.

As a young man who was raised on an Indiana farm, near Fairmont, I am completely enthralled with the "big city." I don't think it's the place for anyone to live, but for working, you just can't beat it.

Such cities as New York, Hollywood, Chicago, Detroit and so on, provide the right amount of cultural and spiritual atmosphere for young people during their growing up process. The tempo, drive, nerve and pulse of a big city can do more for the ambitious soul than anything I can think of. When I first arrived in New York, fresh off the farm and with hayseed still in my hair, I admit I was frightened, terribly frightened. The tall buildings of the city seemed to be closing in on me and although I tried to break down the doors to every theatrical agency, nothing seemed to happen. For a while I was discouraged. But then I decided that a challenge had been hurled my way — a challenge to beat this thing they called "big city fear." So I just kept plugging away, confident that in a short while I would be given the break I had been looking for.

Then, it seemed like only a period of a few days, I got myself a part in a play called "See the Jaguar." My next Broadway show was in "The Immoralist," in which I played an Arab boy, and for which I won the David Blum Award as the "best young actor of the year." That award, by the way, is one of my proudest possessions.

Next came Mr. Kazan, "East of Eden," "Rebel Without A Cause" and now I am in George Stevens' production of "Giant," for Warner presentation. In "Giant" I play Jett Rink, the man who battles Rock Hudson for control of a huge Texas ranch and for the power which that ranch transposes throughout the whole of the Lone Star state.

In 1956, I head back to New York to some Broadway work. My contract with Warners gives that year off for anything I want to do. But whether I am in Hollywood or New York, or back at Fairmont, Indiana, I will remain in and will continue to maintain that all this business of one city being more emotionally suited for an actor than another city is just so much bunk.

THE ETERNAL SEA—Sterling Hayden and Alexis Smith are co-starred in "The Eternal Sea," a starring drama of the men of the U. S. Navy. The film, which opens at the Jim Theater today, also co-stars Dean Jagger, Ben Cooper, Virginia Grey and Richard Crane.

Why Grow Old

Group Effort Of Calorie Club Will Get Results

Last week I mentioned the fact that it would be fun if you would organize a Calorie Club. This would make calorie counting so much easier. The old saying "misery loves company" is certainly true.

These clubs, encouraged and sometimes sponsored by industry, are springing up throughout the country. Like Alcoholics Anonymous the members have a common goal and give each other moral support. Folks can share and conquer problems together much easier than they can stick to a routine alone. It is comforting to know that others have the same problems and discouragements you have—that you are not alone.

The only entrance fee necessary for joining your Calorie Club Club should be the wish to lose weight. I do not know the details of just how these clubs are conducted, but my idea is that you should meet once a week at a member's house, keep individual charts of weight loss and bring your chart with you. Then the members will weigh in.

Discuss and Encourage

They will discuss their problems. They will admit to back-liding and encourage one another to continue successfully. This club adds the pressure which most of us need. Your pride is involved. You will not want to be the last in the class. And, you will all have had somewhat similar experiences and can exchange stories.

One woman may have had houseguests for a week, another may have been visiting, another may have been discouraged and it just didn't seem to matter at the moment. Whatever it is you will find company. The temptation will be to stay away from the weekly meeting if you have not lost a pound, but don't. If you do so the value of the group effort will be lost on you. Stay in there pitching even if you are embarrassed at the first meeting or so.

I cannot overestimate the value of group therapy and association in an effort of this sort. It will be humorous and gay. It will give you companionship of constructive and sympathetic kind.

If you would like to have my Calorie Chart, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36. If you would like to have more than one Calorie Chart for your club members, I can send you three charts for a stamped, envelope. So, send enough postage and a large enough envelope, please, for the number you wish to have me send you. And, later on, let me know how your club turns out.

The bidding:

South, 1 no trump; West, Pass; North, 3 no trump; East, Pass.
South, Pass; West, Pass.
Opening lead: Deuce of hearts.

A nip and tuck battle between offense and defense was waged in today's hand.

West opened the deuce of hearts, and dummy's jack was taken by East's king. When the three of hearts came back, it confirmed the fact that the defenders each held four of that suit. Declarer led a low diamond from dummy's hand and East started a high-low signal by playing the nine. South won with the queen and West held off. Then came the ten of diamonds, which West again ducked, as East completed his echo with the deuce. Observing that the diamonds now had no future, declarer abandoned the suit in favor of leading the king of clubs. This was permitted to win, as East followed with the four, which West knew to be his lowest. At this point West knows that his partner had three clubs originally. For if he had either two or four, he would under the accepted modern convention, start the echo [illegible]. West realizes, therefore, that he must hold up his ace until the third round.

After cashing the queen of clubs, South set out to execute an end play against West in order to force a spade lead into his own hand. He cashed the queen of hearts, intending to put West in with one of his aces. West, however, was not to be trapped. Having been informed at trick two that East held four hearts, he could with complete safety play the ten of hearts instead of the eight, permitting partner to retain the commanding heart in the form of the nine. West cashed both aces and got out with the eight of hearts. East won, and the spade return set declarer down for the count.

While the defense was perfection itself, declarer had not given himself the best chance at [illegible] ment. He had in full view eight top card tricks — two in each suit. A third trick in any suit would put him over. When the queen of diamonds held at trick [illegible] a slight veering in course was indicated. At this point declarer still retains a sure entry to dummy by way of diamonds, and he should try for a third trick in clubs. This will come off if clubs break three-three or if the ten of clubs will drop.

He plays the king of clubs which will hold, and then the queen. If the ten drops he leads a third club. If the ten does not drop, he is then faced with a decision as to whether to attempt to establish a fourth club or play for the diamond ace to fall on the second round. If he plays the second round of diamonds and the ace does not appear, he will be in dummy, and the spade finesse is still available to him as an additional chance.

'Prize Of Gold' With Widmark At Paramount

An amazing adventure in screen suspense, according to advance report, Columbia Pictures' "A Prize of Gold" opens today at the Paramount Theatre with Richard Widmark starred with Mai Zetterling, Nigel atrick, George Cole and Donald Wolfit co-starred. A Warwick Production based on the Max Catto novel, "A Prize of Gold" is an extraordinary story of stolen gold, filmed in the thieves' market of Berlin and the rats alleys of London.

In "A Prize of Gold," Widmark plays a U. S. Airforce sergeant who plots the theft of two million in gold bullion, cached by the Nazis in the closing days of the war and newly-found. Miss Zetterling, the lovely Swedish star last seen with Danny Kaye in "Knock on Wood," portrays a German girl trying to raise money to help displaced war orphans. She is Widmark's true "prize of gold" and it is to win her that he initiates his hi-jack operation when the bullion is airlifted from Berlin to London.

Working with Widmark in his nerve-shattering adventure are a former flier, Nigel Patrick, ready to do anything for money; a British Army sergeant, George Cole, Widmark's opposite number; and an English racketeer, Donald Wolfit. In thus tangling with the underworld on both sides of the Channel, Widmark and the film race to a climax of unparalleled excitement. Adding to the realism of the drama, Hollywood reports, is the fact that the entire film was shot in color by Technicolor on location in both war-torn cities, Berlin and London.

$500,000 Library At Baptist School To Be Opened Mon.

WITH 2 COL. CUT NEW LIBRARY

PINEVILLE, June 25 (Special) — Louisiana college's new $500,000 Richard W. Norton Memorial library building, completed June 1, will be opened for use at [illegible] Monday.

Saturday Librarian Sammie Dyson and his staff completed the task of moving into their sparkling brand new quarters.

It marks the first time in the college's 49-year history that a separate structure has housed the library. For the past 28 years, it has been located in the north wing of Alexandria hall, the administration building.

The new air-conditioned library is three stories high and is located south west of Alexandria hall on the upper campus. It is 102 feet wide and 122 feet deep, built of red brick, and trimmed in Indiana limestone.

Librarian Dyson said that the present capacity of the L. C. library is 125,000 volumes, with an additional 85,000 to be added in the future when the classrooms are vacated for stack space. There are also shelves enough to display 200 periodicals, he added.

A creamy soup called vichyssoise is wonderful served chilled for warm weather meals. It is usually made from potatoes, leeks, milk or cream, chicken stock and seasonings, and may be had canned or frozen. Try it sometime with chunks of lobster added to company fare.
